AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SOCORRO, TEXAS, ADOPTING A COMPREHENSIVE PLAN IN ACCORDANCE WITH TEXAS LOCAL GOVERNMENT CODE; AND PROVIDING FOR THE FUTURE ADOPTION OR AMENDMENT OF ZONING REGULATIONS AND/OR OTHER REGULATIONS AS NECESSARY AND APPROPRIATE TO BE IN CONFORMANCE WITH THE COMPREHENSIVE PLAN.

WHEREAS, it is necessary and reasonable for the City of Socorro, Texas, a Texas general law municipality, (herein the "City") to provide for and adopt a Comprehensive Plan, referred to and entitled as the City of Socorro, Texas Comprehensive Plan ("Comprehensive Plan") to provide for the long-range development of the City and in accordance with Chapters 211 and 213 of the Texas Local Government Code, and the laws and Constitution of the State of Texas;

WHEREAS, the City, in anticipation of growth and expansion, desires to plan for the orderly and efficient growth of the City, and the City Council finds that it is, therefore, necessary to adopt the Comprehensive Plan;

WHEREAS, the City desires to facilitate the lessening of congestion in the streets; assist the safe, orderly, healthful, and coordinated development of the City; conserve existing and future neighborhoods; securing its citizens and visitors from fire, panic and other dangers; promote the general health and welfare of the City, its residents, and the public; promote and protect the provision of adequate light and air, and prevent the overcrowding of property and undue concentration of populations; ensure the adequate provision of transportation, water, sewers, schools, parks and other public requirements; and, promote economic development of the city through an efficient and practical means by which development of the City can occur and take place; and,

WHEREAS, after review, inquiry, and after having conducted a public hearing which provided an opportunity for citizen participation at the public hearing, the City Council has found that the adoption of a Comprehensive Plan for the City, hereinafter set forth, listed in and attached to this ordinance, is reasonable and necessary for the protection and promotion of the general health and safety as well as the protection and promotion of the public health, safety, and welfare of the City, its residents, and the public.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SOCORRO, TEXAS, THAT:

Section 1. Findings. The foregoing recitals are hereby found to be true and correct and are hereby adopted by the City Council and made a part hereof for all purposes as findings of fact.

Section 2. The City may amend the Comprehensive Plan in the discretion of the City Council as permitted under state law and after a public hearing, to plan for changing plans, growth, or the development of the City.

Section 3. Severability: It is hereby declared to be the intention of the City Council that the sections, paragraphs, sentences, clauses and phrases of this Ordinance are severable and, if any phrase, sentence, paragraph or section of this Ordinance should be declared invalid by the final judgment or decree of any court of competent jurisdiction, such invalidity shall not affect any of the remaining phrases, clauses, sentences, paragraphs and sections of this Ordinance, since the same would have been enacted by the City Council without the incorporation of this ordinance of any such invalid phrase, clause, sentence, paragraph or section. If any provision of this Ordinance shall be adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this Ordinance which can be given effect without the invalid provision, and to this end the provisions of this Ordinance are declared to be severable.

Section 4. ## Introduction

The Socorro 2040 Comprehensive Plan is the primary guide for the City's growth. It serves as both a long-range community vision and a policy document, offering guidance for physical, economic, and social progress. The Plan provides a blueprint for the future, directing decisions on land use, housing, recreation, historic and cultural preservation, sustainability and resiliency, community facilities, infrastructure, and circulation. Through its Vision Statement, goals, policies, maps, and implementation measures, the Plan provides a framework for future growth, ensuring balanced development and appropriate and compatible land uses. As a guide for long-term planning decisions, it aims to bring the community's vision to fruition, meeting the needs of current and future residents while fostering sustainable growth.

Socorro: A City with a Mission

From its beginning, the City of Socorro has thrived as a ranching and agricultural community strategically nestled in the southwestern region of Texas along the Rio Grande River in the El Paso area. This location made it an ideal settlement for farmers seeking to cultivate crops and raise cattle.

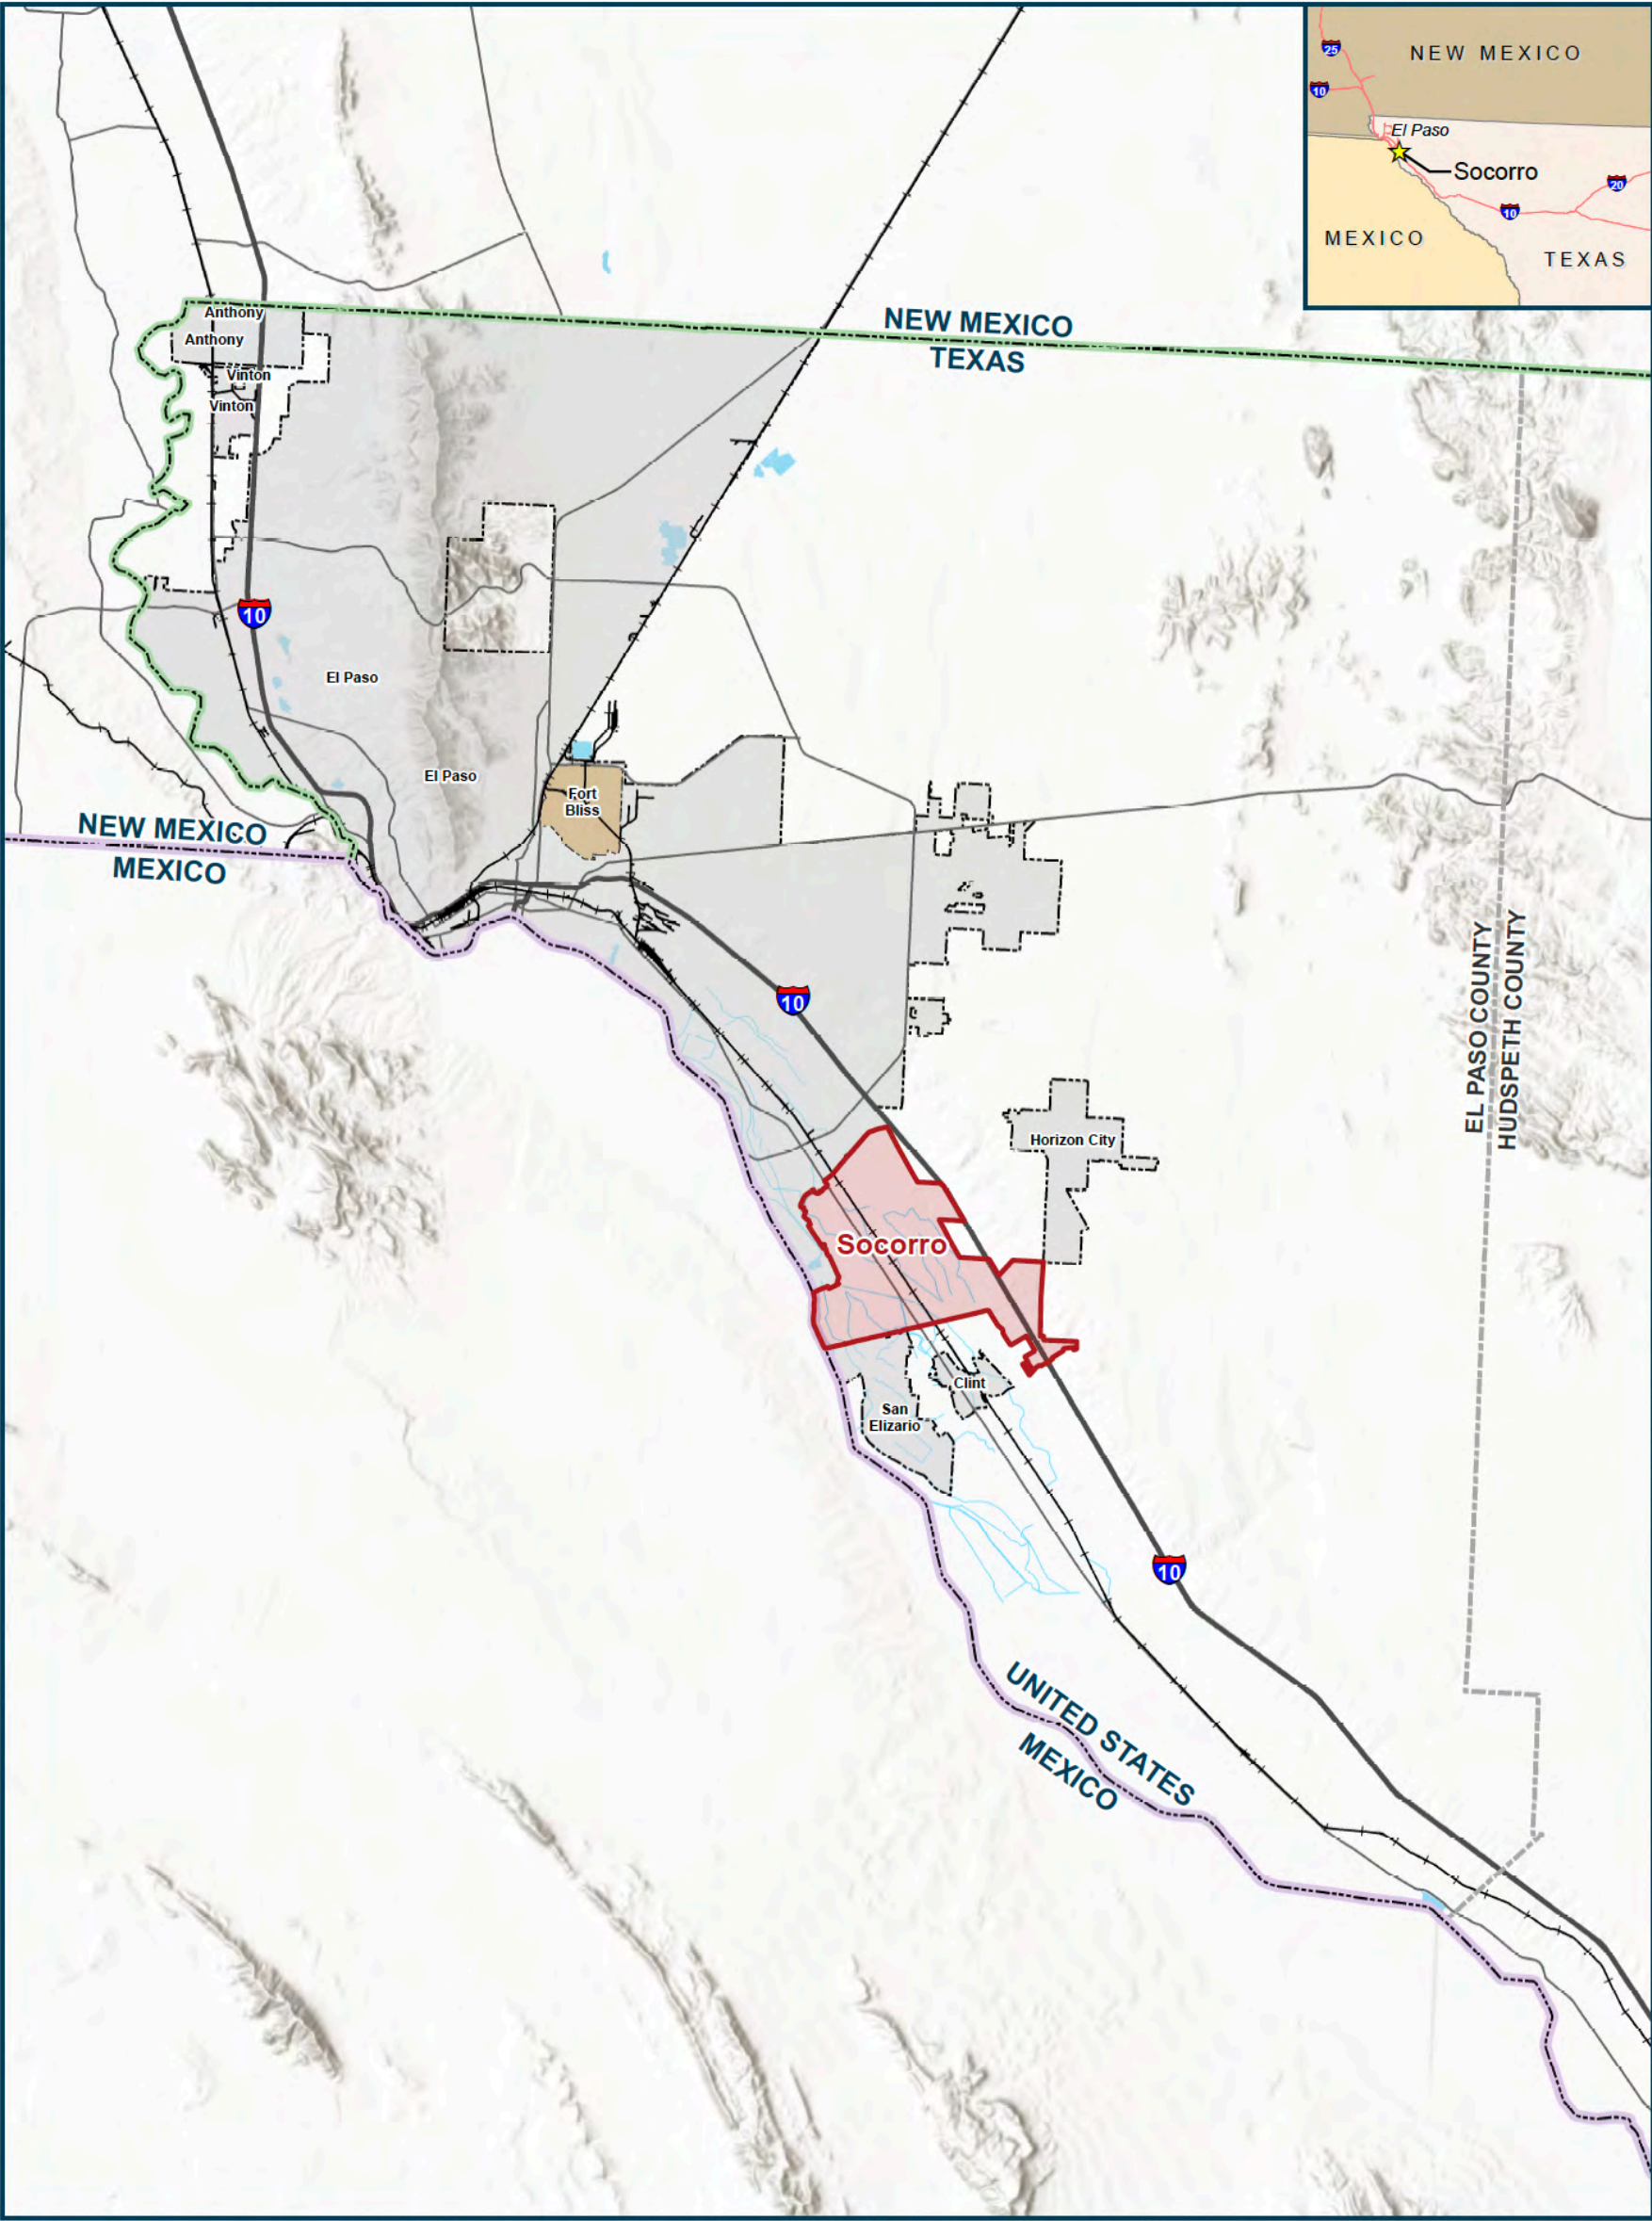

Established in 1680, Socorro grew as a blend of Spanish colonialism, Mexican heritage, and American expansion, fostering a unique cultural tapestry that endures to this day. Central to the City's identity is the Socorro Mission, a historic mission around which the community has evolved. It is part of the El Paso Mission Trail, a trail system connecting three missions—Ysleta Mission, Socorro Mission, and San Elizario Presidio—and serves as a key landmark that celebrates the City's history and inspires its future.

Socorro is within El Paso County, Texas and shares part of its western border with Mexico. Nestled adjacent to Interstate 10 and in close proximity to the Loop 375 Highway, Socorro has transportation arteries that serve as vital conduits for the community's continued evolution and growth. The City's population is slightly over 36,000, with a unique composition that stems from a cultural and historical blend paired with agricultural roots.

Throughout the 20th century, Socorro experienced population growth and a surge of new development. The city today spans 14,060 acres (17.5 square miles). The regional context for the City of Socorro is shown on Figure 1-1.

Ysleta del Sur Pueblo: A Cornerstone in the Community

The Ysleta del Sur Pueblo, also known as the Tigua Tribe, is one of the oldest communities in Texas and has deep roots in the region surrounding Socorro, dating back over three centuries. Following the Pueblo Revolt of 1680, the tribe was forced to migrate from their ancestral lands in New Mexico to the El Paso area, establishing the Ysleta del Sur Pueblo community near the banks of the Rio Grande.

The Ysleta del Sur Pueblo is one of only three federally recognized tribes in Texas, marking it a historically and culturally significant entity. As one of the earliest Native American tribes to come into contact with European settlers in this region, it has played a crucial role in the cultural and historical landscape of West Texas. The tribe has retained much of its traditional form of governance. It continues to practice many of its ancestral customs and ceremonies, which contribute to preserving its unique cultural heritage.

The presence of the Ysleta del Sur Pueblo enriches the community of Socorro and the greater El Paso area. Their involvement in local events and the regional economy through cultural tourism and tribal enterprises underscores their integral role in local development. The tribe's efforts to maintain their language and traditions, alongside active participation in environmental conservation and education, highlight their commitment to fostering a sustainable future for their members and the wider community.

The Ysleta del Sur Pueblo also plays a pivotal role in educational outreach, offering programs that engage the public about their history and cultural practices. These initiatives not only contribute to a greater understanding and appreciation of Native American heritage in the region but also strengthen the cultural fabric of Socorro and surrounding areas.

A Plan for the Community

People are drawn to Socorro for its unique blend of history, culture, and community spirit. The city offers stunning desert landscapes, emerging retail and entertainment, and a vibrant cultural scene. It is home to several historic sites that showcase the area's deep-rooted Mexican, Spanish, and Native American heritage through the Ysleta del Sur Pueblo. Socorro's friendly and welcoming atmosphere makes it an ideal place to raise a family, with safe neighborhoods, good schools, and a strong sense of community. As the City continues to grow, preserving its heritage, roots, culture, and community identity remains a priority.

Recognizing the need to address the significant changes and growth since the last plan in 2014, the City of Socorro embarked on updating its Comprehensive Plan. The 2040 Comprehensive Plan guides the City's growth and development over the next 20 years, considering local and regional trends in the economy, business environment, industry, future land uses, demographics, and natural growth. By involving public and stakeholder participation, the City created a plan that reflects the community's aspirations.

This Comprehensive Plan is a document benefiting all of Socorro's residents. It serves as a roadmap for the City's future, ensuring that growth and development are managed and enhance the quality of life for everyone. The development of the 2040 Comprehensive Plan represents an incredible opportunity for Socorro to build on its strengths, address its challenges, and create a vision for the future that aligns with the aspirations of its residents.

The plan will help Socorro attract new businesses, enhance tourism, develop housing solutions, and improve infrastructure, making it an even more attractive place to live, work, and visit. By setting clear goals under the guiding vision, the Comprehensive Plan will inform the City's development in a way that preserves its unique character. This is a pivotal moment for Socorro, and the successful implementation of the plan will ensure a bright and prosperous future for the City and its residents.

Socorro Past and Present

Community History

Socorro traces its origins to the aftermath of the 1680 Pueblo Revolt, which expelled Spanish settlers from New Mexico. The Piros and Mansos were the first peoples in the area, and following the revolt, the Ysleta del Sur Pueblo was established in 1682. These indigenous groups built the first Socorro Mission. Although much of their culture and identities were erased, they became integral to the Socorro community. Today, the Ysleta del Sur Pueblo remains the only pueblo community in Texas, with their reservation located within Socorro city limits. In 1682, amid this backdrop, the Spanish established a mission in Socorro, formally named Nuestra Señora de la Limpia Concepción de los Piros de Socorro del Sur. In the years that followed, the community that is today Socorro began to take shape around this mission.

The community's trajectory saw shifts in sovereignty. It became part of Mexico from 1821 until 1848, when it was incorporated into the State of Texas following the U.S.-Mexican War. Throughout the 19th century, Socorro maintained its essence as a modest agricultural community, nourished by locally built acequias irrigating crops such as alfalfa, fruit trees, and grains. Socorro, Texas was first incorporated as a city in 1871. It was later re-incorporated in 1986 in response to an annexation attempt from neighboring El Paso.

The 20th century marked a period of gradual expansion for Socorro. Developers gradually infiltrated the community, enhancing its infrastructure with additional housing and commercial services, thereby transforming the historically rural setting. This development also led to the emergence of colonias, unincorporated neighborhoods that expanded housing opportunities but presented unique challenges in urban planning due to the lack of specific supporting infrastructure. The City enacted its first Comprehensive Plan in 1988 to manage this growth, including efforts to integrate and support the colonias. As the 21st century dawned, Socorro underwent a surge in population, with residential subdivisions and services flourishing. The City embraced its family-friendly reputation, fostering a welcoming environment for residents and visitors alike. The most recent update to the Comprehensive Plan occurred in 2014, reflecting Socorro's ongoing evolution. Amid this evolution, the community cherishes its rich history, recognizing the foundations that shaped Socorro into the vibrant city it is today.

Socorro Today

Population

The City of Socorro has grown consistently during the past several decades. After adding more than 2,293 residents from 2010 to 2020, the City expects to see continued growth. In 2022, the American Community Survey estimated Socorro's population at 35,429. According to the World Population Review, by 2029, Socorro's population is expected to reach 48,748. The steady increase in population will require additional housing, commercial space, recreational facilities, and employment to support its evolving needs.

Population Distribution

Socorro residents are aging in place, and Socorro continues to appeal to newcomers.

Socorro will need to develop new housing, commercial space, and recreational facilities to accommodate the diverse demographic spectrum and provide live and work opportunities for existing residents, their growing families, and new residents. This development will not only support the accessibility and well-being of the older population but also will serve as an appealing option for the younger demographic.

For comparison, Horizon City has experienced significant economic development, including new housing projects and job opportunities, which attract new residents, particularly young families and professionals. In contrast, San Elizario retains its rural lifestyle and is seeing slower growth, with higher aging populations and fewer young families moving to the area.

Population (in Percentage)

Median Age

While the median age in Socorro is slightly higher than in neighboring cities and continues to rise, it remains a relatively young community overall. For example, Horizon City has a median age of 29.3, and San Elizario has a median age of 27.9. This trend in Socorro is attributed to its residents aging in place, alongside the influx of young families moving into the area.

While the median age is increasing, it is important to consider recreational facilities, transportation options, housing needs, and other amenities to support a wide range of residents, with increased consideration for younger families and a younger workforce.

Vision Statement

The Vision Statement describes Socorro's desired future condition and articulates the shared aspirations of residents, property owners, leaders, and other stakeholders. The Vision Statement is a source of inspiration and guidance for the Socorro 2040 Comprehensive Plan and contains the key values governing this Plan's subordinate goals, policies, and implementation actions. Socorro's 2040 Vision Statement is:

Socorro is a welcoming community that celebrates diversity, preserves its rich culture and history, and fosters economic growth, environmental stewardship, and a high quality of life for residents and visitors alike. It stands as a symbol of unity and prosperity for future generations.

Vision Statement Explanation

Elements of the Vision Statement have been derived from feedback from the public, the Steering Committee, and City staff. Common themes are that supported the development of the Vision Statement include:

- Livable
- Family-oriented
- Prosperous
- Mission and Mission Trail
- Friendly
- Historic and agricultural heritage

What is the Comprehensive Plan?

The Comprehensive Plan is a long-range, broad policy, living document describing the goals and policies that reflect Socorro's overarching vision, values, and aspirations. Together with a series of maps and diagrams, these components provide direction for Socorro's future by guiding growth and land development decisions in accordance with the City's goals. The Plan is intended to be used by everyone from citizens to developers, City employees, and elected leadership. The guidance within is developed by those whom the Comprehensive Plan will serve.

The Comprehensive Plan has the following qualities:

General

It provides overarching and citizen-directed policy guidance that can be used to direct future land use and resource decisions.

Broad Scope

It encompasses a wide range of community aspects, including land use, transportation, environmental protection, economic development, housing, public services, and community amenities, providing a complete framework for strategic community growth.

Long Range

It provides long-range guidance (15 years or more) on how Socorro's vision can be attained.

The Plan is not a zoning map, a tool to promote special interests, static, a detailed policy for specific properties or areas, or a capital improvement program, but it does help guide those tools.

Relationship to Other City Plans and Regulations

No single City planning document or regulation operates in isolation; rather, they are interconnected and mutually influential. The Comprehensive Plan serves as a cornerstone, offering policies to steer growth and development. While it does not explicitly delineate other planning documents or regulatory frameworks, it may contain directives that shape or revise such documents and regulations. A robust Comprehensive Plan forms the bedrock of a community's trajectory, setting the stage for a cohesive array of more detailed plans and regulatory measures. This integrated network is essential for constructing a sustainable, thriving community.

Who Uses the Comprehensive Plan?

City Staff	The Plan integrates and expands upon strategies of City departments and community collaborators. City staff will reference it during the evaluation of alterations to development regulations and rezoning appeals and when suggesting improvements to facilities, services, and capital investments. Additionally, the Comprehensive Plan will provide a strategic framework aligning local development goals with broader regional and national priorities, making it an important tool in justifying the need for grant funding and securing resources for various projects. Department leaders will employ the Plan to shape work plans, budgets, and capital enhancements.
City Council	The City Council will rely on the Plan as a framework for decision-making, ensuring the City's long-term vision remains a consistent anchor point.
Boards and Commissions	Members of appointed boards and commissions will leverage the Plan to fulfill their duties and objectives. Certain boards, such as the Planning and Zoning Commission, will regularly consult the Plan for direction in decision-making processes.
Residents	Residents will utilize the Vision Statement, goals, policies, illustrative maps, and implementation plan to evaluate the growth potential in specific areas throughout the City. They will reference it when addressing proposals or other matters before the City Council or appointed boards or commissions. Serving as a shared reference point, the Plan will facilitate constructive discussions about the benefits and concerns associated with growth and development, ensuring the welfare of Socorro.
Developers	Property owners, developers, builders, and other stakeholders involved in Socorro's advancement will consult the Plan to design projects and site plans that consider the broader community context, rather than focusing solely on individual sites. The Plan will initiate discussions on crucial issues and considerations to inform decisions regarding land use changes.

Navigating the Plan

From the vision goals to the specific goals and policies of each element, the Comprehensive Plan provides guidance and valuable insights to support informed decisions and contribute to the ongoing dialogue shaping the City's future. ## Community Engagement

During the planning phase of the Socorro 2040 Comprehensive Plan, it was imperative to actively seek and integrate community input. Engagement with interested and passionate residents and stakeholders was ongoing throughout the process, solidifying the profound care and enthusiasm Socorro residents hold for their community.

An essential component of crafting any comprehensive plan involves obtaining input and fostering community participation. While developing the Socorro 2040 Comprehensive Plan, this was achieved through a robust and ongoing bilingual outreach effort coordinated in English and Spanish. This initiative allowed hundreds of residents to express their opinions on a variety of topics through numerous outlets.

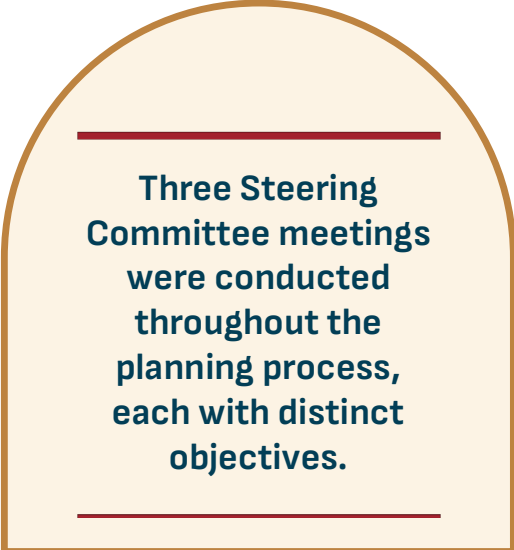

The project website served as a platform for interested citizens to provide online comments, utilize the IDPlaces mapping tool, and complete the online community questionnaire. In-person events encompassed three community meetings featuring a set of bilingual engagement activities for residents' participation. Each component of community input was considered to ensure the Socorro 2040 Comprehensive Plan authentically reflects the diverse perspectives and priorities of the community, making it a true reflection of the City of Socorro.

Steering Committee

The Comprehensive Plan Steering Committee consisted of a diverse group of local community members, each bringing a unique background and specialized expertise to represent the community. Their primary role was to act as advocates for the residents of Socorro, encompassing those who live, work, and recreate in the city.

The committee members served as project liaisons and played a critical role in shaping the Vision Statement and developing the Plan. They were responsible for assessing the community's priorities and identifying opportunities for Socorro's growth and improvement. Additionally, the Steering Committee members served as project ambassadors, responsible for promoting the project and disseminating information throughout the community.

The Steering Committee was engaged throughout the development of the plan via email, providing review and comment of draft materials, development of the Vision Statement, goals and policies, and Future Land Use Map, and by attending meetings.

Three Steering Committee meetings were conducted throughout the planning process, each with distinct objectives.

August 16, 2023

The Steering Committee was introduced to the Comprehensive Plan process and received an explanation of their roles and responsibilities. During the meeting, committee members participated in interactive exercises intended to assess the community's strengths and identify opportunities for the future of Socorro. Steering Committee members were also presented with a preliminary version of the community questionnaire. Each question was reviewed, and members were encouraged to provide feedback, which was subsequently integrated into the questionnaire before its distribution to the community.

October 5, 2023

The Steering Committee received an overview of the outcome from the initial community meeting. The primary goal for this meeting was to relay the public's feedback and refine the draft Vision Statement for the Plan. Committee members were encouraged to contribute ideas that personally resonated with them and encapsulated the community's vision for the Socorro 2040 Comprehensive Plan. Secondary goals of the meeting were to discuss preliminary goals and policies for the Plan and discuss the way forward for updating the Future Land Use Map, including revising the land use category descriptions.

March 4, 2024

This Steering Committee meeting primarily focused on identifying changes to the Future Land Use Map, including a review of the 2014 map, a review of current zoning across the city, and a discussion of road network improvements to identify revisions to the Map. Members engaged in a discussion on the draft land use categories, offering valuable feedback.

Committee members also reviewed a draft goals worksheet, which each member was asked to complete following the meeting and return to the project team. This worksheet helped gather additional feedback and recommendations on the draft goals, which were developed based on the community feedback received thus far.

Focus Groups

Ten focus group interview meetings were conducted with local and regional topic experts to gain an understanding of the specific needs and challenges that the Comprehensive Plan should encompass. The purpose of these interviews was to conduct smaller group discussions with a range of participants, including residents, business owners, community advocates, organizations, and technical experts. These interviews served to deepen the understanding of local issues that should be addressed in the Plan.

The focus group topics covered the following:

- Elected Officials
- Infrastructure/Utilities
- Transportation
- Housing
- Logistics
- Economic Development/
Small Businesses
- Socorro Independent
School District
- State/County Agencies
- Historic Preservation
- Community Service
Organizations

Community Contributions

The efforts to include as many community members as possible in the Comprehensive Plan development process were exhaustive. Citizens were offered a wide array of opportunities to participate and make their voices heard.

Community Engagement Opportunities

The three community meetings served as successful demonstrations of the active involvement of Socorro residents. Meeting materials were prepared in both English and Spanish, promoting inclusivity and equitable engagement. Information about the events was distributed through email lists, website updates, Socorro's social media, and City staff's presence at local community events to spread awareness.

Community Meeting #1

The overarching goals of the first community meeting were:

- Engage the community in developing a vision for the City of Socorro.
- Identify community priorities that can be utilized to develop implementation goals.
- Inform and encourage participation and comments from members of the community.
- Explore solutions and opportunities for several identified planning policy topic areas.
- Simplify the Comprehensive Plan update process and educate all on the next steps.
- Identify strengths and challenges throughout Socorro that should be celebrated or addressed based on a series of topics.

The meeting began with a presentation outlining the purpose of the update, followed by an open house featuring interactive exercises designed to promote maximum participation. Participants provided feedback through a variety of activities, including two open-response feedback boards where attendees expressed thoughts they love about Socorro and shared their vision for the City's future.

Furthermore, a set of statements derived from each element of the Plan encouraged attendees to voice their opinions and indicate their agreement or disagreement with the listed statements. Participants were also given an opportunity to share their insights regarding strengths and challenges that exist within the community. The feedback collected from these activities was reviewed, and the resulting community consensus played a key role in shaping specific goals and policies for the Comprehensive Plan.

Community Meeting #2

The overarching goals of the second community meeting were:

- Engage and inform the community about the progress of the Plan, encouraging an environment for constructive input and feedback to shape its development.
- Determine strategic land utilization priorities to enhance community development.
- Explore options for better thoroughfare solutions to improve connectivity and accessibility.

The event took place during the City's monthly Socorro Sunday event, where the main attraction was the 2040 Comprehensive Plan booth. Attendees engaged in a dynamic visual preference activity centered on land use. A range of land use options was presented in voting boxes, enabling community members to express their preferences for Socorro's future.

Situated near the voting boxes, a display of large format maps and bilingual information boards was arranged, offering attendees insight into the feedback received by the project team and the ongoing factors shaping the Plan's development. This setup allowed for open communication between the project team and community members.

Youth engagement initiatives were also integrated, featuring a questionnaire and coloring sheet aimed at younger participants. As an added incentive, booth visitors who participated in activities or sought information about the Plan had the chance to spin a prize wheel and take home some fun mementos.

Community Meeting #3

The final community meeting was held on June 17 at the Socorro City Council Chambers. The purpose of this meeting is for the community to learn about the Draft Socorro 2040 Comprehensive Plan, the Future Land Use Map, and the goals and policies. A presentation was given to convey the importance of the Plan in guiding future growth, summarize the community engagement efforts, and discuss the components of the Plan. A question and answer period was held after the presentation, and then attendees were given time to read large format posters with key draft goals and policies and ask questions individually with the project team.

Socorro 2040 Project Website

The project website functioned as a hub that provided updates on Plan information, engagement opportunities, and relevant Plan documents for review. These features were accessible throughout the process to foster engagement at each phase of the Plan. Some engagement opportunities, such as the IDPlaces interactive mapping and comment tool and the community questionnaire, were only available during a limited time to gather input.

IDPlaces Tool

The interactive IDPlaces mapping and comment tool gave the public and stakeholders the ability to identify issues and opportunities on a dynamic, web-based map and provided the community with multiple ways to voice their opinions related to specific geographic locations. The tool allowed participants to mark the geographic area where the issue or opportunity exists, add comments, or upload images and documents to create a more interactive experience. Comments were then made available for other users to see, creating a collaborative platform.

Community Questionnaire

A bilingual community questionnaire was designed to elicit insights into various aspects of the community and to assess Socorro's existing strengths and challenges. This questionnaire was developed and refined, considering specific input from the Comprehensive Plan Steering Committee and City staff.

The questionnaire was distributed at local community events including the first Comprehensive Plan community meeting and was available on the project website for three months. This accessibility ensured that individuals who could not attend in-person meetings had the opportunity to share their perspectives and actively engage in the process. Following this, a findings report was prepared, identifying common themes and community priorities. The feedback collected through the questionnaire played a pivotal role in shaping the development of the Comprehensive Plan and in defining the goals and policies for each element.

The findings from the questionnaire were instrumental in shaping the Plan. The community's desire for better employment and shopping opportunities led to the inclusion of economic development strategies aimed at attracting new businesses and supporting local entrepreneurs. The emphasis on historic preservation influenced the plan to incorporate guidelines for maintaining and protecting historic sites. Additionally, the feedback on community pride and family growth helped to frame a vision statement that focuses on fostering a vibrant, family-friendly environment that values its heritage and looks forward to sustainable growth.

Socorro 2040 Comprehensive Plan Community Questionnaire

The common themes that emerged from the findings report were:

Employment and Shopping Opportunities

A significant number of respondents highlighted the need for better employment and shopping opportunities. This feedback indicates a demand for economic development initiatives that can provide more job opportunities and enhance local retail options.

Do You Work in Socorro?

Source: Community Survey

Only about one-quarter of respondents are currently employed within the City limits. The rest commute elsewhere for employment.

How Often Do You Travel Outside Socorro to Shop, Eat, or for Recreational Amenities?

Source: Community Survey

Most individuals regularly leave Socorro, whether on a daily or weekly basis.

Historic Preservation

Protecting historic sites and buildings was deemed important by many participants. This suggests that any future development plans should include measures to preserve the community's historical heritage.

Why Is It Important to Protect Socorro's Historical and Cultural Resources?

City Council and Planning and Zoning Commission

As part of the focus group discussions, Mayor Ivy Avalos was interviewed and provided invaluable insights on effective community engagement practices, enriching the outreach efforts. During this exchange, Mayor Avalos highlighted the distinctive qualities of Socorro and her desire to preserve the community's character and historical attributes while embracing expected growth. She also offered her thoughts on areas where the community could direct more attention to continue the success of current policies.

Throughout the Comprehensive Plan process, the Socorro City Council and the Planning and Zoning Commission members were actively engaged. Councilmembers and commissioners also participated in the community meetings and offered feedback, contributing to the Plan's development.

During the public draft review period, the Plan was presented at a joint workshop with the City Council and Planning and Zoning Commission on June 18, 2024. The workshop gave Council members and Commissioners a chance to review and discuss the Plan's components and learn how they addressed community interests and desires. An open discussion offered Council members and Commissioners an opportunity to provide guidance on updates to the Plan before it is finalized.

The Planning and Zoning Commission held a public hearing on July 16, followed by a public hearing by the City Council on July 18. At the July 18 public hearing, the City Council passed an ordinance to adopt the 2040 Comprehensive Plan.

Growth & Development

The Growth and Development Element provides a framework for maintaining Socorro’s suburban lifestyle while effectively managing sustainable growth. As new development occurs, it is imperative to set forth guidelines that protect the distinctive culture and heritage that make the City of Socorro special. This element will establish land use, economic strategies, and objectives to guide development and growth over the coming years. Socorro aims to diversify housing solutions, attract new businesses and investments, and create job and shopping opportunities for residents. This element provides a framework for achieving these efforts in a sustainable and equitable manner, considering the City’s unique characteristics, resources, and needs.

Land Use

Existing Land Use

The City of Socorro rests in the southwestern corner of Texas, with Mexico bordering to the west and Interstate 10 to the east. It is also south of the TX-375 Loop. Socorro's proximity to the Rio Grande to the west and trade corridors extending through the community from Mexico to New Mexico influenced the City's settlement patterns. Covering approximately 14,162 acres or roughly 22 square miles, Socorro remains deeply rooted in its rich historical and agricultural heritage while embracing new growth and community amenities, which is an approach to modernization that its residents cherish.

Historically, Socorro's land use has evolved organically, driven by incremental growth as former agricultural lands have been developed. Market forces have largely shaped development patterns, with zoning and infrastructure reacting to rather than guiding growth trends. During the past two decades, Socorro has experienced population growth that exceeds 22%, with newcomers drawn to the community's farming character and quiet lifestyle.

The area near highways predominantly features typical highway-oriented development, including gas stations, car washes, drive-through establishments, high-intensity commercial uses, industrial buildings, logistics centers, and warehousing facilities. Industrial activity is increasing with a significant portion dedicated to self-storage construction alongside manufacturing, logistics, and warehousing facilities. In contrast, the remainder of the City has experienced a prevalence of car-reliant establishments, with limited shopping and dining options available.

Detached single-family homes dominate Socorro's residential landscape, ranging from small-town style properties to expansive lots, reflecting its agricultural heritage. Limited multifamily options, such as apartments and condominiums, are available in Socorro. Incorporating a wide range of housing densities into the City's zoning code can provide affordable housing, promote equality, enhance sustainability, and support a thriving, diverse community. Higher-density housing, such as apartments and townhomes, promotes a sense of community, reduces urban sprawl, preserves open spaces, and better leverages existing infrastructure. A mix of housing types can support various businesses and services, contributing to economic growth and stability and allowing the City to adapt to changing demographic trends and housing needs over time.

The City has 73 designated Colonias located within the city limits. The Colonia subdivisions surfaced in the area in the 1950s, when small farmers and developers sold portions of their land to Mexican immigrants who built dwellings to be near their work environment. The lack of affordable housing within border communities such as Socorro resulted in these individual lots becoming subdivisions that lacked basic services such as potable water, wastewater, power, natural gas, and paved streets. The Texas Legislature established laws to prevent Colonias in 1995. It established a funding source to assist in allocating resources to Texas counties to extend water and wastewater to the established Colonias. However, those funds were available only for a limited timeframe following the City's incorporation. Additionally, this does not address the need for other basic infrastructure such as electric, gas, and paved roads. Socorro is still working with El Paso County and utility providers to address Colonias within the City, some of which still do not have these basic services.

Socorro faces challenges in providing local employment opportunities, leading to a substantial portion of residents commuting outside the City for work. According to the U.S. Census Bureau’s “On The Map 2020,” 12,167 residents commute outside the City for work, while 3,405 individuals commute from outside the City into the community for employment. Only 496 people live and work within Socorro’s boundaries, highlighting the need to attract local industries that can provide jobs and foster a more self-sustaining economy.

Table 3-1 illustrates the land use distribution in Socorro and its comparison to the national standard for other communities under 50,000 across the U.S. This standard may vary due to regional differences in land planning, era of development, and community priorities, but it can help guide future land use decisions when significant land use changes are made. Generally, Socorro aligns with the commercial makeup of similar communities. Although Socorro boasts an open space percentage exceeding the average, notable prospects lie in the realm of industrial and residential development. Given the slight deficit in designated land for industrial purposes, Socorro should consider identifying areas for economic development and expansion that have the potential to grow the property and sales tax base and provide additional employment opportunities. There have been large areas of land that have been identified for future industrial development that may not be accounted for in Table 3-1. Similarly, diversifying housing types and products can help keep low costs of living and promote ownership opportunities for residents.

Future Land Use

Throughout the development of the 2040 Comprehensive Plan, residents emphasized the importance of preserving Socorro's unique agricultural heritage and lands. Not only should historical areas be preserved and protected, but the development surrounding these sites should also align with their character.

Residents expressed a range of preferences on housing, from large agricultural properties to small-lot, single-unit and multifamily options, to support housing diversity and attainability. To promote responsible growth, blending these preferences by buffering and appropriately transitioning to smaller, denser lots from large-lot properties is essential. This approach preserves the cherished character while providing residents with diverse housing options and services.

Socorro community members advocated for expanded retail and commercial services to accommodate the City's growth and provide for increased shopping, restaurant, and employment. In response, the City created and adopted the Shopping District on Nuevo Tanks Hueco Road. This district prioritizes additional services and entertainment, including enhanced dining, family, and shopping experiences.

The Shopping District

The City aims to attract and capture more businesses and retail establishments to enhance the quality of life for its residents. While the Shopping District was initially established for Nuevo Hueco Tanks Road, its principles and goals can be integrated into other neighborhood and regional commercial developments along major arterials to promote improved retail, dining, and entertainment throughout the entire city.

Residents also emphasized the importance of pedestrian-friendly and bikeable commercial areas to enhance community safety. Improving community connectivity through enhancements to the City's sidewalk network, along with Texas Accessibility Standards (TAS) initiatives, is crucial.

Furthermore, residents highlighted the need for new industrial development to create jobs and revenue for the City. They called for additional employment and business opportunities to allow community members to live and work within Socorro.

Given the potential impact of desired developments on employment, services, and commerce, workforce and attainable housing emerge as critical elements of the Plan to support the City's land use priorities.

Texas Accessibility Standards (TAS) are the state-specific accessibility standards that apply to public and private buildings and facilities in Texas

Future Land Use Categories

There are eleven (11) land use categories and one overlay district to capture the visioned 2040 character of Socorro. The purpose of these categories is to:

- Provide guidance for new development in undeveloped areas to ensure the necessary housing, businesses, and services for residents;
- Accommodate a range of incomes, lifestyles, and community preferences for the population;
- Facilitate economic development and employment opportunities for the City; and
- Conserve the agricultural, rural, and farming areas in Socorro in appropriate areas.

Table 3-2 2040 Future Land Use Categories

Designation	Maximum Density	Description	Total Acres in Future Land Use Map
Open Space and Parks (OSP)		This designation includes passive and active local, state, and federal parks, multipurpose trails, preserved or conserved public or private open space, wildlife corridors, nature centers, recreation areas, rivers, streams, canals, floodways, floodplains, and other uses that support an active community and outdoor tourism and have a minimal ecological impact.	711 acres
Agriculture (AG)	1 du/5+ acres or 1 du/lot with properties smaller than 5 acres	This designation supports the continuation of agricultural and related functions that are customary in Socorro. Residential densities are very low. This category applies to areas that should not be intensified or developed by 2040.  Detached single-family homes at a density of 1 du/5+ acres or 1 du/lot with properties smaller than 5 acres, and accessory dwelling units are allowed along with related garages, sheds, barns, silos, and other agricultural structures. Storage and use of farm implements, equipment, vehicles and materials, livestock, and agricultural elements, including animals, pastures, croplands, vineyards, apiaries, “you-pick” farms, solar energy development, agritourism, and agricultural product retail sales such as farmers markets are also allowed.	1,591 acres
Rural Residential (RR)	1 du/acre	This designation supports traditional large-lot, single-family residential development. Lots are a minimum of one (1) acre (43,560 square feet), and the primary use is residential.	1,363 acres
Suburban Residential (SR)	5 du/acre	This designation supports detached single-family residential structures and accessory uses on lots greater than 8,500 square feet.	2,875 acres
Medium-Density Residential (MDR)	7.25 du/acre	This designation supports medium-density single-family residential structures, duplexes, triplexes, quadplexes, townhomes, and condominiums on lots greater than 6,000 square feet.	1,201 acres

Urban Residential (UR)	7.25-15 du/acre	This designation supports medium- to high-density residential uses that consist of one or more buildings that contain two or more independent dwellings on one parcel. This includes duplexes, triplexes, quadplexes, row homes, townhomes, condominiums, court homes, cottage clusters, and apartments on lots greater than 6,000 square feet. Multistory development is encouraged. This land use category should occur along major thoroughfares or in areas of the city that are already established at a higher density. All development must follow multifamily design guidelines.	107 acres
Neighborhood Commercial (NC)		This designation allows low- to moderate-intensity commercial, service, and office uses that primarily serve market areas close to residential neighborhoods. Uses in this district promote a broad range of commercial operations and services necessary for large regions of the City such as restaurants, retail, grocery stores, fueling stations, offices, financial services, professional services, medical services, and other similar uses. Uses within this designation are compatible with residential uses and are appropriately transitioned from abutting residential uses.	552 acres
Regional Commercial (RC)		This designation is meant to draw in regional shoppers and economic opportunities. It supports the development of moderate- to higher-intensity commercial, service, lodging, and office activities to serve the needs of local and regional residents, visitors, and wider regional markets. These designated areas are generally positioned along highways, considering appropriateness and accessibility.	327 acres

Mixed-Use (MU)	7.25-15 du/acre	This designation is intended to encourage a mix of housing, economic opportunities, shopping, and live-work space on or near areas planned for future growth. It includes a compatible and integrated mix of uses from low-intensity business parks, offices, higher-education facilities, and medical services to regional and neighborhood commercial, parks, tourism, and multifamily residential such as townhomes, condominiums, and apartments. This category allows a mix of base zoning districts. Multistory buildings are encouraged.	528 acres
Industrial / Commercial Mixed-Use (ICMU)		This designation is intended to provide for greater flexibility and discretion in the more integrated development of commercial, industrial, and institutional uses and combinations of such uses. Conservation of open space is also encouraged in this category. Industrial uses in this category should be lower-impact and limited-scale indoor industrial uses such as light fabrication, assembly, light manufacturing, contractors' offices, custom fabrication/assembly, small-scale machine shops, indoor self-storage, warehousing, research and development, and logistics centers. The use intensity is low to moderate and is located strategically near arterials and highway interchanges. All outdoor storage and activity areas should be fully screened from public view and residential areas, and they must be located in the rear portions of properties.	1,662 acres

Heavy Industrial (HI)		This designation supports the heaviest industrial uses, such as manufacturing, processing, fabrication, and large warehousing operations. These uses should be strategically located near highway interchanges. Appropriate transitioning or buffering should protect nearby uses, minimizing light, noise, odor, vibration, traffic, water, wastewater, and other utility impacts.	204 acres
Historic District (HD) Overlay		This is an overlay designation meant to protect historic resources and districts. Other land use categories are retained underneath but uses should align with protecting historic and cultural character of the districts.	196 acres (Note, this is duplicative of the underlying land use categories.)

Housing

Median Home Value, 2010–2022

Source: 2010 ACS 5-Year Estimates, 2020 ACS 5-Year Estimates, 2022 National Association of Realtors

Socorro boasts an impressively high owner-occupancy rate, with 80.8% of housing units owner-occupied, according to 2022 Census data. This trend likely stems from the moderate increase in median home values from 2010 to 2020. However, between 2020 and 2022, the median home value surged by 119%, reflecting trends observed in other parts of Texas and the U.S. To maintain affordability and sustain high rates of homeownership, the housing inventory in Socorro should be diversified for various income levels. This will ensure that both long-time residents and prospective newcomers find housing options that align with their needs, thereby enhancing Socorro's appeal as a residential destination.

Addressing the availability and affordability of housing is crucial for both homeowners and renters in Socorro. Renters, in particular, face significant challenges due to limited options for mitigating housing costs. Large-lot, low-density residential developments, while appealing to those seeking Socorro's rural, agricultural atmosphere, often impede housing accessibility. To counteract this, it is essential to promote a variety of "missing middle" and multifamily housing options, including duplexes, townhomes, live-work units, and smaller-scale mixed-use and apartment buildings. These options bridge the gap between single-family homes and large multifamily complexes and are well-suited for infill development.

By strategically locating these developments near commercial centers, schools, and workplaces while preserving open spaces on the outskirts, Socorro can maintain its agricultural character while improving housing accessibility. Local housing options can also enhance the quality of life and reduce the cost of living for residents by shortening commutes and cutting transportation expenses.

Economic Development

Economic Indicators

Median Household Income

In Socorro, the median income has trailed behind the County and State levels. Although incomes are rising, they are not increasing at the same rate as in El Paso County and Texas. This disparity poses a challenge: If the cost of living outpaces income growth, current residents may be displaced, and the City could struggle to attract new industries. To address this, adding well-paying jobs and diversifying industries could provide residents with more economic opportunities and attract new residents, further boosting economic activity.

Source: S1901 | 2022 American Community Survey 5-Year Estimate

Source: World Population Review, 2024

Socorro's poverty rate is notably high at 23.46%, meaning nearly a quarter of the population lives below the federal poverty line — a significant proportion compared to the national average of 11.5%. This high poverty rate is partly attributed to the area's lower income levels. Despite economic challenges, Socorro benefits from stabilizing factors such as high homeownership rates and a lower cost of living.

Adult Education Attainment

The City of Socorro has seen a steady increase in residents' educational attainment, possibly indicating that the population growth is driven by more highly educated individuals. In 2020, a higher percentage of residents graduated from high school and pursued post-secondary education than in previous years. This suggests a workforce with a mix of basic education and some college experience.

Academic Year	State	African American	Hispanic	White	American Indian	Asian	Two or More Races
2021-22	70%	61.3%	67.1%	68.6%	60%	90.9%	77.8%
2020-21	65.2%	61.8%	62.7%	75.8%	57.1%	60.9%	76.5%

Source: Socorro ISD 2022-23 Annual Performance Report

In Socorro, most residents have completed high school, but fewer have earned higher-education degrees. However, the relatively lower percentage of residents with bachelor's degrees or higher may impact the community's ability to attract high-skilled jobs and industries that require advanced education. Communities with higher educational attainment levels often experience more robust economic development due to a more skilled workforce that attracts diverse industries. Socorro's educational profile indicates potential educational growth areas to enhance economic opportunities. Increasing access to higher education and vocational training could support economic development and improve job prospects for residents.

Source: S1501 | 2022 American Community Survey 5-Year Estimates

Employment and Industry

The City of Socorro's unemployment rate as of April 2024 of 4.2% is slightly higher than both the City of El Paso's rate at 3.9% and the State's rate of 3.5%. This suggests that Socorro is relatively stable economically, especially in comparison of broader regional metrics. New industries and employers coming to Socorro highlights potential economic growth and diversification. Providing well-paying jobs within the City can further decrease the unemployment rate and improve the overall economic well-being of the community. As Socorro attracts new industries, there is an opportunity to focus on workforce development to ensure residents are qualified for these new jobs. Currently, the top employment sectors are:

Source: Texas Workforce Commission, April 2024

Source: DP03 | 2022 American Community Survey 5-Year Estimates

Educational Services, and Health Care and Social Assistance (21.6%)

This sector is the largest in Socorro, indicating a significant presence of schools and educational facilities, hospitals, and social service organizations. The high percentage suggests a strong demand for professionals in education, healthcare, and social work.

Retail Trade (12.9%)

Retail trade is the second-largest industry, reflecting the presence of numerous retail businesses such as stores, shops, and supermarkets. This sector provides a variety of job opportunities, from sales associates to management positions.

Construction (12.3%)

The construction industry is also prominent, highlighting ongoing development and infrastructure projects in the area. Jobs in this sector range from laborers and skilled tradespeople to project managers and engineers.

Although the agriculture industry comprises only 1.6% of Socorro's workforce, it remains a small yet vital part of the City's heritage. Therefore, it is crucial to preserve and promote employment in this sector

Economic Opportunities

The City of Socorro is developing an Economic Recovery Strategic Plan with an estimated completion date of June 2024. This Plan will help identify specific industries and retailers that can contribute to a thriving local economy. Additionally, the Plan will highlight business support needs and opportunities for local employment.

To promote greater economic wellness in the community, the City should consider investing in and advancing various industries that align with Socorro's character and contribute to a thriving and diverse business and employment sector. Specifically, the City should focus on encouraging the following sectors.

Higher Education and Vocational Training

Higher education institutions equip individuals with advanced skills and knowledge essential for high-demand jobs, enhancing workforce productivity and competitiveness. Vocational training provides specific skills tailored to particular industries, making individuals immediately employable, especially in sectors like manufacturing, construction, and healthcare. Vocational training institutions can collaborate with employers to develop courses that meet local job market needs, ensuring that students acquire in-demand skills and have opportunities for work placements and apprenticeships. Together, higher education and vocational training can diversify the local economy by preparing individuals for a wide range of occupations, from technical and skilled trades to professional and managerial roles.

Socorro should explore partnerships with local and regional universities, community colleges, training programs, the U.S. Army's Fort Bliss, and other organizations to support initiatives such as mentoring local high school students, hosting employment workshops, and possible "grow your own" programs. To further these efforts, the City should explore potential partnerships with El Paso Community College (EPCC) and Texas A&M University, leveraging their resources and expertise to address the community's higher education needs.

EPCC offers a variety of programs aimed at enhancing workforce skills, including short-term training, vocational courses, and industry-specific certifications. These programs can be tailored to meet the specific needs of local industries, ensuring that individuals acquire relevant skills and have opportunities for work placements and apprenticeships. Programs such as Adult Education and Literacy training, offered in collaboration with Texas A&M University, aim to improve educational outcomes for adults, providing them with the skills needed to succeed in the workforce. Additionally, EPCC's Workforce Strategic Initiatives department collaborates with local businesses to develop training programs that meet specific business applications and manufacturing processes, upgrading the skills of both new and existing employees.

Agriculture and Agribusiness

Agriculture, particularly pecan farming, is historically significant in Socorro, with major pecan processing facilities located in the City. Recognizing this traditional industry's importance, Socorro can explore value-added agricultural activities, such as processing and packaging, to further enhance this sector. Additionally, promoting agritourism can attract visitors interested in farm tours and locally sourced produce.

Developing agritourism activities, including farm tours, pick-your-own produce, and farmers markets, can generate additional income and support the local desire to preserve agricultural industries. Farmers markets and direct sales offer avenues for selling products directly to consumers, fostering higher margins and building customer relationships.

In terms of processing, creating value-added products such as pecan oil, flavored pecans, and other processed foods from raw agricultural materials can significantly increase profitability and market reach. Collaborating with retailers and wholesalers to distribute these products more widely enhances both wholesale and retail opportunities.

Investing in local food production initiatives can contribute to a healthier, more sustainable community. The establishment of community gardens and support for local farmers markets not only enhances local food security but also provides fresh produce that supports healthy lifestyles. Partnerships with local foodbanks further ensure that surplus produce reaches those in need, reinforcing the community's resiliency against food scarcity.

Logistics, Distribution, and Manufacturing

Socorro's strategic location along Interstate 10 makes it ideal for manufacturing, logistics, and distribution. The City's proximity to the Ysleta Port of Entry into Mexico gives companies a competitive edge by shortening supply chains and improving responsiveness to market changes. Expanding these industries can capitalize on the City's accessibility and allow them to uniquely benefit from recent nearshoring trends, where business operations are transferred to nearby countries rather than far-off locations, leading to improved operational efficiency and reduced costs. With 70% of the U.S. population reachable within 48 hours via highway travel, Socorro actively promotes itself as a distribution hub and aims to attract more manufacturing firms, leveraging benefits from the Foreign Trade Zone (FTZ) established in November 2023.

The FTZ designation offers significant incentives for manufacturing businesses, allowing them to reduce import duties and other costs, thus encouraging domestic manufacturing and capital investment. Socorro can leverage a variety of grant programs, such as from the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), to aid in product development and market expansion while also receiving assistance for innovative agricultural projects and sustainability initiatives through private and community grants from organizations like the American Farmland Trust and the Farm Bureau. Socorro can attract diverse manufacturing companies to complement its logistics and distribution sector. These incentives attract businesses and foster local economic growth and job creation.

Regional Commercial

Socorro's strategic vision for regional commercial areas is to create engaging, family-oriented spaces that serve as economic and social hubs. These areas should offer a blend of retail, services, lodging, and office spaces, catering to the needs of local residents and regional visitors. Located along major gateways to the community, such as Nuevo Hueco Tanks Road, these areas are designated for easy access and aim to enhance the local lifestyle.

With Socorro undergoing rapid industrial growth, planning these districts proactively is essential. By anticipating future needs, the community can ensure thoughtful and sustainable development by integrating new commercial development seamlessly with community needs. This will allow the City of Socorro to utilize the economic opportunities presented by industrial expansion while maintaining the quality of life that makes Socorro a great place to live.

City Center

Socorro is planning a city center that will serve as the heart of community interaction and a beacon of local culture. The planned city center aims to be a central gathering place for residents and visitors alike, offering a variety of resources and activities that foster community engagement. Central to this vision is the historic Rio Vista Farm, a site with a longstanding history and heritage. The City plans to restore and revitalize the Rio Vista Farm through the Rio Vista Farm District Master Plan, which will provide the following:

- New library
- Outdoor event space
- Renovated senior center
- City offices
- Medical clinic
- Fitness studio
- Dance studio
- Classrooms
- Combined museum and art gallery
- Café
- Agricultural education and/or community garden facilities

This project will preserve a significant part of Socorro's past, boost local commerce, provide employment opportunities, and enhance Socorro's overall quality of life. By integrating historic preservation with modern amenities, the city center will be where history meets community life, creating a unique and enduring space for future generations.

Tourism

Socorro's distinct history and vibrant cultural heritage highlighted by landmarks such as La Purísima Socorro Mission, the El Paso Mission Trail, and the Rio Vista Farm, provide a strong foundation for expanding the tourism and hospitality industries.

Including the Ysleta del Sur Pueblo in the tourism strategy opens avenues for unique cultural tourism experiences that celebrate the traditions and history of the Tigua people, one of Texas's oldest indigenous communities. Developing partnerships with the Ysleta del Sur Pueblo can enrich the visitor experience for the Tribe and the City, foster greater appreciation and understanding of Pueblo's cultural significance, and offer authentic cultural showcases, including traditional festivals, craft markets, and educational programs highlighting traditional customs, cuisine, and craftsmanship.

New businesses like restaurants, breweries, and entertainment venues are opening to create an entertainment hub and are turning the area into an emerging tourist destination. Further developing tourism infrastructure, including themed bed and breakfasts, culturally focused hotels, and specialized retail establishments, can attract visitors looking for unique cultural experiences. The City can also promote cultural and historical tourism by investing in Socorro specific marketing initiatives that highlight its unique historical attractions. Organizing annual cultural festivals, historical reenactments, and guided tours of significant sites within the community can draw additional visitors. Additionally, collaborating with regional tourism boards and participating in wider marketing campaigns can increase Socorro's visibility as a cultural tourism destination.

Quality of Life

The citizens of Socorro have identified preserving cultural history and enhancing parks and open space as essential for fostering quality of life and promoting sustainable growth. This Quality of Life Element focuses on these important resources within the community by building upon past reports, plans, and studies, along with the insights gathered from City staff and community members throughout the planning process. The recommendations within this element focus on sustaining and expanding these important community assets, providing for an enriched quality of life as the community prospers and grows.

Historic and Cultural Resources

Socorro's history dates back to 1680 and is significant on the local, state, and national levels, attracting visitors from all over the country, as well as international visitors. The City is home to several unique historic sites and is adjacent to the Ysleta del Sur Pueblo reservation, as identified on Figure 4-1. The City, property owners, and community members are committed to maintaining and enhancing the cultural, historical, and environmental resources contributing to Socorro's identity.

Ysleta del Sur Pueblo

Adjacent to Socorro, the Ysleta del Sur Pueblo, often called the Tigua Tribe, embodies a deeply rooted cultural heritage that predates many modern settlements in the region. As a sovereign nation, the tribe governs itself independently, preserving a way of life that has withstood the trials of history since their forced migration from New Mexico in 1680. This sovereignty affords them unique opportunities to manage their cultural and natural resources, fostering resilience and pride in their community. The Ysleta del Sur Pueblo's historical significance as one of the oldest continuous settlements in Texas is a cornerstone to the community and offers valuable lessons in cultural endurance and adaptation. Intertwined with significant events such as the Pueblo Revolt, their history highlights their impact on the regional cultural landscape. Today, the Pueblo's active participation in environmental conservation and educational outreach enhances their role as custodians of their heritage.

Socorro can benefit from partnerships with the Ysleta del Sur Pueblo in cultural tourism, educational programs, and conservation projects. Such collaborations could focus on promoting the tribe's rich traditions and supporting sustainable practices around the reservation. This cooperative relationship not only honors the tribe's historical significance but also enriches Socorro's cultural offerings, fostering a shared community space that respects both past and present. This approach ensures that the tribe's contributions to regional culture and history are celebrated and integrated into the broader narrative of Socorro's development.

Purísima Socorro Mission

The Purísima Socorro Mission, commonly called the Socorro Mission, is one of three missions along the El Paso Mission Trail, which dates back to 1680. It was designated as a Texas Historic Landmark by the Texas Historical Commission in 1964 and listed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1972 and. This mission, formally known as Nuestra Señora de La Limpia Concepción de los Píros del Socorro del Sur (Our Lady of the Immaculate Conception of the Píros of Socorro of the South), was founded in 1682. The Socorro Mission was built and established with help from the Píros, Tanos, and Jemez indigenous peoples, some of whom arrived to the area from New Mexico after the Pueblo Revolt of 1680. Throughout its history, the mission has been a symbol of protection and resilience for Socorro. Today, the Socorro Mission symbolizes Socorro's rich religious heritage and is a testament to its people's enduring strength and resilience.

Over the centuries, the mission has undergone several reconstructions. The original mission was destroyed by flooding in 1740, rebuilt, and again destroyed by flooding in 1829. These floods also altered the course of the Rio Grande, creating a new river channel. After each flood, the community came together to rebuild the mission, ultimately relocating it to its current site with construction completed in 1840, safe from the river's waters.

In the 1990s, the community initiated its most recent mission restoration project to preserve the mission's distinctive Spanish colonial architecture, characterized by its thick adobe walls and traditional vigas protruding from the exterior. The restoration stabilized the mission's walls, repaired the bell tower, and conserved the interior, ensuring the mission could continue serving as a cultural and historical landmark. The preservation of the Socorro Mission plays a substantial role in Socorro's tourism sector, attracting visitors from across the nation and abroad.

Early Site of Socorro Mission

The original mission site was protected as a State Antiquities Landmark in 2009 through the Texas Historical Commission. The original mission site has been maintained despite the challenges posed by natural disasters over the centuries, including significant floods that led to the mission's relocation. Efforts to preserve this site have involved archaeological studies and protective measures to safeguard remnants and artifacts that provide insight into the early days of the mission. These preservation activities are supported by the City, the Texas Historical Commission, and community volunteers committed to maintaining the site's integrity.

El Paso Mission Trail

El Camino Real de Tierra Adentro National Historic Trail has been a corridor of cultural exchange and commerce for over three centuries. It traces its historic routes through what is now the southwestern United States and Mexico. This "Royal Road of the Interior" originally spanned roughly 1,600 miles from Mexico City to northern New Mexico. Among its segments is the Paso Del Norte Trail, which runs through Socorro, Texas. The Texas Transportation Commission recently approved over $16 million in transportation alternatives to enhance this area. The funding is earmarked for constructing a seven-mile segment along the Historic Mission Trail, further celebrating and preserving the trail's heritage as a part of the El Camino Real de Tierra Adentro.

The El Paso Mission Trail is a nine-mile segment within the El Camino Real de Tierra Adentro National Historic Trail, one of the oldest corridors in the United States, and has been active since 1598. The El Camino Real de Tierra Adentro connects Mexico City, Mexico, to Santa Fe, New Mexico, and boasts some of the most important historic landmarks within the trade corridor. Established during the Spanish colonial period, the El Paso Mission Trail extends along Socorro Road. It links the Ysleta Mission in El Paso, the Purísima Socorro Mission, and the San Elizario Presidio Chapel in San Elizario, collectively symbolizing a critical period in the colonization of the southwest in the spread of Spanish culture and the Catholic faith across the region.

Rio Vista Bracero Reception Center

Another important site that interweaves Socorro's culture and history dates back to 1915 when the O'Shey family opened the Rio Vista Farm to individuals needing shelter during the Great Depression. The family's generosity eventually led to the Works Progress Administration operating out of the facility through President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal program, providing provisions, job training, and job creation. Between 1951 and 1964, the site was utilized as one of five critical way stations to process and house workers for the Mexican Farm Labor Program, or the Bracero program. The Bracero program contracted with over 4.2 million migrant workers, with the Rio Vista Center issuing 800,000 contracts for workers from Mexico to engage in seasonal employment within the U.S. agricultural industry.

The Rio Vista Bracero Reception Center (Rio Vista Center) was added to the National Register of Historic Places in 1996 and received a National Historic Landmark designation in 2024, marking the first time a National Historic Landmark was commemorated with bilingual plaques. The City developed the Rio Vista Farm District Master Plan for the 17 historic buildings and the overall site to expand the services offered within the community center and is seeking grant and other funding opportunities to bring it to fruition. Once funded, the phased approach will supply the community with a city center providing a museum and art gallery, a public library, a small business incubator, an outdoor event space, a medical clinic, a fitness and dance studio, classrooms, and a café.

Casa Ortiz

Casa Ortiz has been a designated Texas Historic Landmark since 1973 and sits along the El Paso Mission Trail. The structure dates back to the late 1700s and was the home of Jose Ortiz, who traded goods with the Indigenous Peoples along a trade route extending from communities within Mexico, such as Durango and Santa Fe, to communities within New Mexico such as the Guadalupe Mountains and Llano Estacado. Their trade consisted of salt from the foothills of the Guadalupe Mountains to knives, sarapes, and clothing in exchange for buffalo hides and meat. Since 2020, the building has been utilized as an art gallery, gift shop, and working studio for local artists. The studio has hosted shows and art markets featuring local vendors and has contributed to the growth of cultural tourism and activity along this stretch of the El Paso Mission Trail.

Tienda de Carbajal

The Tienda de Carbajal sits on the site of a 19th-century hacienda recognized in an 1852 map near the San Elizario Road crossing of Acequia Madre. By 1873, parts of the original structure were demolished, and the owner, Juan Carbajal, repurposed remnants into a store and municipal offices. This site was recognized as a Texas Historical Commission Landmark in 1972 for serving as a supply hub for freight caravans traveling to Chihuahua City and Mesilla in the 19th century.

Historic Districts

Socorro has two designated historic districts. The Rio Vista Center Historic District encompasses a significant portion of land owned by the City and features the Rio Vista Bracero Reception Center and Cougar Park. The inclusion of these two facilities and open space emphasizes the City's commitment to blending historical preservation with community wellness and accessibility. The additional investment of implementing the Rio Vista Farm District Master plan warrants a review of the district boundaries to ensure adjacent private development constructed to protect the integrity of the historic nature of the area.

The Mission Trail Historic District follows The El Paso Mission Trail along Socorro Road and encompasses the Purísima Socorro Mission site and cemetery. This district is meant to preserve and strengthen the cultural and historic resources along the trail, both as cultural treasures and opportunities for appropriate economic development. This includes improvements to historic sites. Community members expressed concerns that there is a lack of visibility and public education regarding Socorro's historic sites. They view the Socorro Mission as the "heart" of the community and would like to see redevelopment in the area that celebrates and supports the historic nature, with an avoidance of industrial-type development that detracts from the value.

Parks and Recreation

Strategically placed and equitably distributed parks can provide many individual and community enrichment opportunities. Parks and open spaces may protect environmentally sensitive lands from the potentially harmful effects of urban development, including curbing sprawl, minimizing fragmentation, and reducing climate and environmental issues while offering recreational benefits. The City of Socorro has a variety of types of parks, as shown on Figure 4-2. These community spaces offer citizens both active and passive recreational opportunities.

The National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA) has comprehensively assessed more than 1,000 parks and recreation agencies to develop nationwide parks and recreation benchmarks in the 2022 NRPA Agency Performance Review. According to the national assessment, the typical parks and recreation agency has an average of 10.4 acres of parkland for every 1,000 residents in its jurisdiction. The City of Socorro currently has 70.03 acres of parks, equal to 1.997 acres of parkland per 1,000 residents, well below the national average. However, the City owns two community centers, which are not included in this calculation. Additional parkland can be developed and dedicated to the City as development occurs through the form of parkland dedication requirements within the updated Unified Development Code (UDC).

The dispersal of parks throughout Socorro is generally focused in the northern and southern parts of the city, leaving a void in central Socorro. Residents in the central part of the city have to travel further to access park and recreation facilities. As new development occurs in this area, park space should be incorporated to serve these residents.

Throughout the 2040 Comprehensive Plan process, residents indicated they want to improve and maintain existing parks rather than develop new ones. Key concerns included inadequate planning and design, old equipment, lack of maintenance and upkeep, and insufficient facilities. Residents noted that many parks have little shade or seating areas and requested the addition of walking trails within the parks, the extension of trails to connect parks, and the enhancement of park aesthetics with improved landscaping. Residents also identified the need for basic improvements such as signage, ADA- and TAS-required access, parking areas, and bathroom facilities. The City should update and maintain a current Parks Master Plan in order to provide for a strategic approach to the redevelopment of existing parks. Management of a current Parks Master Plan also enables the City to access Texas Parks and Wildlife funding opportunities.

1 Rio Bosque Wetlands Park

Rio Bosque Wetlands Park, a 372-acre park located in Southeast El Paso County, is managed by the University of Texas at El Paso's Center for Environmental Resource Management. Although it lies outside Socorro's city limits, it serves as a significant recreational, ecological, and educational resource for residents. The park features walking and hiking trails for visitors.

The park's current state provides essential drainage functions for the surrounding area while offering open space that contributes to the City's green infrastructure.

Community parks serve several neighborhoods, typically within a service radius of two miles. They are more active in nature, featuring amenities such as practice and game fields for sports leagues, community centers, walking trails, and areas for special events. ## Indoor Facilities

Rio Vista Community Center

The Rio Vista Community Center is part of the Rio Vista Farm Historic District and a hub for various community events and activities. Services at the center include recreational programs such as fitness classes, sports programs, educational classes, after-school care, senior citizen programs, a community library, and a meeting space. The City is in the process of identifying funding resources to implement the phased rehabilitation of the Rio Vista Community Center to expand community services. The expansion will include creating a new library and outdoor event space, renovating the existing senior center, and providing city offices, a medical clinic, a fitness area, a dance studio, classrooms, a combined museum and art gallery, and a café.

E.G. Chayo Apodaca Community Center

The E.G. Chayo Apodaca Community Center is the newest community center in Socorro, created when the City renovated a former fire station. This community center was named after E.G. (Chayo) Apodaca, a well-known Socorro citizen who brought the first fire engine to the City and served as an early member of the City Council. It features board games, an arcade room, and a study and patio area. As part of recent COVID-19 economic recovery efforts, this center also acts as a small business support center and houses representatives from Project Vida's Micro Enterprise Technical Assistance Program (MTAP) and Workforce Solutions Borderplex Business Support Services Program. The City owns all of the land next to and around the back of the community center. The Police Department headquarters is located to the south, and the back is being used as a vehicle holding pen by police and as a public works yard. Most of the land towards the back is vacant open space. The City has ideas for the vacant land that include a multipurpose room, meeting rooms, a basketball court, a stage, and possibly a skate park.

Trails

During the 2040 Comprehensive Plan process, community members said they would like the trail system extended to enhance connectivity to the El Paso Mission Trail and other parks and open spaces, as well as enhanced to provide increased safety for pedestrians and bicyclists. Trail expansion would provide residents with improved access to recreational paths, a safe area for hikers and bikers, and seamless integration with existing regional trails. Developing new trails and upgrading existing trails will facilitate mobility and connectivity through all the residential areas within the community.

Paso del Norte is a project involving the construction of approximately 7 miles of trails and shared-use paths in Socorro. The trail will be built along the historic Mission Trail, which includes significant landmarks such as the Socorro Mission, Casa Ortiz, and Casa Apodaca. These paths will connect bicyclists and pedestrians to historic sites, heritage tourism clusters, local food producers, parks, and natural areas along the Mission Trail. This segment is part of a larger plan to create a 68-mile trail uniting the county, providing extensive connectivity for community members to various destinations.

Public-Private Partnership
A public-private partnership occurs when the government works with a private company or organization to create public benefits. One application entails sharing resources and expertise to ensure trails or natural areas are preserved and remain accessible to everyone.

The City has limited right-of-way within some existing roadways for other trail projects. Providing alternative modes of transportation throughout the community can alleviate traffic while increasing pedestrian safety. The trails could be developed through public-private partnerships using conservation easement programs, colocation within the El Paso County Water Improvement District No. 1 irrigation canal rights-of-way, or partnerships with utility providers.

Open Space

Most of the open space in Socorro is undeveloped or used as agricultural land. Socorro residents prioritized maintaining the integrity of the rural agricultural land and open space areas within the community throughout the development of the 2040 Socorro Comprehensive Plan. To develop a successful program, the community must work alongside the agricultural property owners to provide a balanced approach to preserving the agricultural and open space areas while ensuring the sustainability of agricultural operations for the next 15 to 20 years. “Smart growth” practices such as conservation subdivisions and land mitigation banking can provide opportunities for a balanced approach to growth within the community.

Conservation subdivisions are a smart growth and land use planning tool that balances residential development with preserving open space and natural resources. They are designed to promote sustainable development by clustering homes on smaller lots, leaving a significant portion of the land undeveloped for conservation, recreation, or agricultural purposes. This approach helps maintain the area's rural character and ecological health while allowing for development.

Land Banking

Land banking involves acquiring and holding land so it can be repurposed based on the community's needs, such as creating green spaces and community gardens. The land is held in careful stewardship until a new purpose can be determined.

Land mitigation banking is a conservation tool used to compensate for the adverse impacts of development on natural habitats. It involves preserving, enhancing, restoring, or creating natural areas or environmentally sensitive lands to offset the effects of development projects in more appropriate areas elsewhere.

Utilizing creative tools like these will assist the community in building a mutually beneficial relationship between the community, agricultural property owners, and regulating entities.

Mobility

As Socorro continues to grow, improving mobility and transportation systems is crucial for supporting sustainable development and improving the quality of life for residents. The Mobility Element evaluates a comprehensive network of circulation and multimodal transportation, encompassing public transportation options, improved road infrastructure, and the incorporation of pedestrian and cycling paths to encourage safer accessibility and use. These recommendations can help relieve traffic congestion, stimulate economic growth, support recreation and active lifestyles, and broaden access to educational and healthcare services. Given Socorro's proximity to the El Paso metropolitan area, improved mobility can enhance regional connectivity, presenting new opportunities for residents and businesses alike.

Transportation Network

Continuously monitoring and improving the circulation network throughout Socorro is essential for connecting urban areas, fostering economic growth, and improving accessibility. A multimodal transportation network considers users who rely on various modes of transport, such as pedestrians, cyclists, drivers, rideshare users, and public transit riders. These networks improve efficiency in the city and promote ease of access and viability of land uses. A well-designed roadway network is key to reducing urban sprawl and congestion, promoting a healthier environment, and ensuring equitable access for all residents.

Functional Roadway Classifications

Roads and streets within the City of Socorro are assigned functional classifications based on their role in the network, categorizing them into the following classes.

- Principal Arterials are major roads designed for high capacity and faster flow of traffic providing regional connections. They connect key areas and facilitate efficient long-distance and regional traffic flow. State roadways such as SH-20 (Alameda Avenue) and FM-1281 (Horizon Boulevard) are classified as principal arterials.
- Minor Arterials provide access to city areas with less traffic than those served by principal arterials, ensuring intra-community connectivity without directly traversing larger neighborhoods. FM-258 (Socorro Road) and FM-76 (North Loop Drive) are examples of minor arterials.
- Collectors channel traffic from local streets into the arterial system and vice versa, while also facilitating land access and traffic circulation within residential neighborhoods and commercial and industrial areas. Old Hueco Tanks Road and Rio Vista Road are examples of major collectors.
- Local Streets are mainly designed to provide local access to homes primarily, offering short-distance connectivity and accommodating lower volumes of vehicular traffic compared to other road types.

Key Roadways

There are seven key roadways throughout Socorro that are strategically designed to facilitate local commuting needs and connectivity throughout the city and to larger transportation routes, illustrated on Figure 5-1. These roadways serve as essential conduits for transportation within and beyond the City's boundaries. The Texas Department of Transportation's Statewide Planning Map provides a comprehensive list of arterial and collector roads in Socorro, along with their classifications.

- FM-258 (Socorro Road) is a two-lane arterial road that traverses the City's western side in a north-south direction. FM-258 is a minor arterial owned by the State of Texas and maintained by the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT).
- SH-20 (Alameda Avenue) is a four-lane arterial road centrally located in Socorro, running in a north-south orientation. SH-20 is a principal arterial owned by the State and maintained by TxDOT.
- FM-76 (North Loop Drive) alternates between a two-lane and a four-lane arterial, stretching north-south through the heart of Socorro. It is a minor arterial owned by the State and maintained by TxDOT.
- FM-1281 (Horizon Boulevard) is a four-lane arterial road traversing the central-northern section of Socorro in an east-west direction. It is a principal arterial owned by the State and maintained by TxDOT.
- Nuevo Hueco Tanks Road is a four-lane collector street running east-west from I-10 to North Loop Drive in the eastern part of the city. This major collector is owned and maintained by the City of Socorro.
- Rio Vista Road is a two-lane collector street, traversing the City's north-central area in an east-west direction. This major collector is owned and maintained by the City of Socorro.
- Moon Road is a two-lane collector stretching east-west through the northern part of the city. This major collector is owned and maintained by the City of Socorro.

Mobility Framework

Most of Socorro's residents primarily depend on their car to get around. While cars are expected to continue as the primary and most prevalent mode of transportation for the foreseeable future, incorporating mobility options in addition to roadway expansions will be needed to continue to support growth.

In 2020, the City of Socorro adopted the Major Thoroughfare Plan, which identifies existing infrastructure and new roadway connections to meet the needs of the community's travel patterns. To ensure that improvements and operational efficiency are sustained as the City grows, Socorro should continue to regularly update this Plan to ensure it remains consistent with planned growth and needs. Socorro's geographical and demographic context allows for ample opportunity to integrate various multimodal opportunities throughout the city. The development of a Multimodal Transportation Master Plan would enhance connectivity and foster opportunities for live-work neighborhoods. This plan should identify specific strategies for active transportation in Socorro and shared mobility options, locate new multiuse paths and bicycle routes, add new sidewalks and pedestrian safety features, advocate for additional public transport routes and services, and integrate smart technologies to improve user experience and safety. It would serve as a catalyst for Socorro's strategic development, adaptability, and long-term prosperity.

The City is actively working to accommodate the increasing adoption of electric vehicles (EVs) by installing additional charging infrastructure. The El Paso Regional Climate Action Plan outlines a specific project to install 14 public Level 2 EV charging stations at strategic locations in Socorro, including community centers, parks, retail hubs, and tourist sites along the historic Mission Trail. By proactively installing public charging stations, Socorro is positioning itself to meet the growing demand for EV charging as adoption rates increase, ensuring residents and visitors have access to reliable charging options.

Major thoroughfare plans focus on improving traffic flow, reducing congestion, and enhancing connectivity between different parts of cities and their surrounding areas.

Active Transportation

To improve connectivity and accommodate a diverse range of mobility needs within the city, it is important to prioritize the development and enhancement of infrastructure supporting active transportation. Beyond their positive environmental impact, these modes contribute to enhancing the quality of life, creating community recreation, promoting community health, and alleviating traffic congestion, and with proper planning, they can help improve Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and Texas Accessibility Standards (TAS) accessibility.

Active transportation encompasses various modes such as walking, running, jogging, cycling, wheelchairs, and other low-to zero-emission means of travel.

Many residents have emphasized the importance of integrating multi-use paths throughout the city. These paths not only serve recreational purposes but also provide connections to the established Mission Trail path, a point of community pride. By accommodating walkers, runners, and cyclists, multiuse paths can enhance connectivity and integrate with historic trails and paths, thereby enriching the quality of life and celebrating Socorro's cultural and historic heritage.

While the City has worked to enhance pedestrian infrastructure and accessibility through the adoption of the Socorro Master Sidewalk Plan and ADA Transition Plan in 2019, further expansion or integration of sidewalks, bike routes, and shared-use paths is necessary to establish a comprehensive and accessible active transportation system. One key setback to enhancing the sidewalk system is the limited availability of right-of-way along some roads to construct new sidewalks. Collaborating with the El Paso County Water Improvement District No. 1 to establish an enhanced trail network along the canal system presents an excellent opportunity to expand community connectivity, safety, and recreational amenities.

The development of a Multimodal Transportation Master Plan should include a dedicated section focusing on active transportation, outlining a strategic plan for enhancing walking and bicycling conditions throughout the City.

Pedestrian Accessibility and Safety

To enhance connectivity and accommodate a broader range of active transportation options within Socorro, prioritizing multi-use paths, protected bike lanes, and sidewalk improvements is essential. Safe routes for walking and biking to school are also a top priority. Many residents have expressed a strong preference for developing multiuse paths that provide appropriate buffers from high-traffic roads while connecting various parts of the city.

Improving mobility throughout the city requires a comprehensive assessment of the existing pedestrian network and infrastructure. With increasing traffic and pedestrian activity, implementing effective strategies to ensure the safety of all road users is crucial. In Socorro, there is a significant disparity in pedestrian infrastructure across different areas. While key roads like Horizon Boulevard, Nuevo Hueco Tanks Road, North Loop Drive, and North Rio Vista Road are equipped with sidewalks, others such as Alameda Avenue and North Moon Road lack this basic amenity. According to the Socorro Master Sidewalk Plan, Socorro should continue to install sidewalks and develop maintenance plans to ensure they remain useful, safe, and accessible for all residents.

The City should consider implementing a Complete Streets program to enhance safety, accessibility, and mobility for all residents. By designing streets to accommodate various modes of transportation, including pedestrians, bicyclists, public transit users, and motorists, a Complete Streets approach can promote physical activity, reduce traffic congestion and vehicle emissions, and foster a more vibrant community. A Complete Streets program in Socorro would involve redesigning major corridors and neighborhood streets to include features like well-maintained sidewalks, dedicated bike lanes, enhanced crosswalks, accessible public transit stops, and traffic calming measures.

At crossing points, clearly marked crosswalks at all intersections and high-pedestrian traffic areas can alert signal drivers to the presence of pedestrians. Using high-visibility paint and textured surfaces can enhance safety for visually impaired pedestrians and encourage drivers to yield, aligning with the ADA Transition Plan.

Street cross-sections should be reviewed and coordinated with TxDOT, which is responsible for developing and maintaining many of the arterials within Socorro. The City can continue collaborating with the State, El Paso County, and TxDOT to coordinate improvements, explore funding opportunities, and advance transportation goals and policies that align with local, regional, and state objectives. This collaboration will enhance travel conditions, improve air quality, and contribute to a higher quality of life for residents.

Bicycle Accessibility and Safety

Enhancing bicycle safety is a critical concern in Socorro, due to inadequate infrastructure for cyclists. A notable issue is the scarcity of bike lanes, and lack of adequate protection for bicyclists, with only two roads in Socorro featuring marked bike lanes. These lanes start at North Loop Drive and extend to the intersection with Nuevo Hueco Tanks Road, continuing along Nuevo Hueco Tanks Road. This limited infrastructure is insufficient to fully support cycling as a practical transportation option. Existing unprotected bike lanes are underutilized due to safety concerns.

To make biking a viable option for residents, a comprehensive network of bicycle facilities should be developed. Such a network would ensure safer travel for cyclists of all ages and abilities, promote physical activity, and contribute to reducing traffic congestion and environmental impact. Providing safe bike lanes can significantly reduce the risk of accidents, creating a safer environment for all road users. Safe routes for walking and biking to school are a priority. Early adoption of bike usage is essential, but unprotected lanes do not effectively facilitate access to K-12 public schools. Additionally, a pedestrian and bicycle-friendly city is more attractive to residents and visitors, potentially boosting local businesses and tourism. These measures also align with broader sustainability goals, contributing to a more environmentally responsible and livable city.

Socorro should consider adopting a bike share program to enhance transportation accessibility. A bike share program can offer residents a convenient alternative to vehicular travel. Socorro can boost local commerce and provide residents with affordable transportation options by placing bike share stations in key areas such as commercial centers and tourism destinations.

Public Transportation

Sun Metro services in Socorro have historically been provided through an agreement with El Paso County Transit. Existing routes as of June 2024 are shown on Figure 5-2. This publicly financed system, encompassing bus and paratransit services, facilitates travel for students, senior citizens, individuals with disabilities, and other community members to and from neighboring cities. However, during the development of this Plan, the El Paso County Rural Transit District voted to reduce service to the City of Socorro and will begin to evaluate the reduction, including the full elimination of transit service within the city.

Sun Metro currently operates with a limited number of routes in Socorro, raising concerns about accessibility and usability. The existing bus routes predominantly follow a north-south axis, serving only a fraction of the city. This limited coverage has left many residents underserved and disconnected from services and opportunities. The scarcity of bus routes not only inconveniences passengers but also reduces access to vital areas of the city. In addition, lack of infrastructure like ADA and TAS access, heat protections, and seating, along existing bus routes and bus stops raises concerns regarding access to transit for vulnerable populations that rely on public transit the most, like people with disabilities, senior citizens, and people with mobility issues. Many residents have expressed the need to expand the bus network to ensure that a more significant portion of the City's population can benefit from reliable and accessible public transportation. In response, the City of Socorro will develop a comprehensive Transit Development Plan.

Enhancing and expanding public transit services like buses and shuttles can provide residents with reliable and affordable alternatives to private vehicles. This includes extending service hours, increasing route frequencies, and potentially integrating regional transit connections. The City of Socorro should continue to promote the use of public transit among residents and visitors. Prioritizing safety, comfort, accessibility, and reliability should be a top priority. Many residents have also advocated for improving the bus stops and adding shaded benches.

Freight

Embracing multiple modes of transportation for all users can relieve pressure on the road network and provide more sustainable and efficient freight movement options. With an expanding industrial footprint and a strategic location requiring robust freight movement, Socorro is poised to redefine its freight transportation network. Future enhancements should prioritize efficiency, sustainability, and community well-being. Optimizing current roads and highways to improve traffic flow will enhance access and reduce travel time in and around Socorro.

Truck

Currently, Socorro's freight transportation infrastructure primarily consists of truck routes. The routes effectively serve the city's agricultural and industrial areas. However, as land use for these purposes increases, freight congestion has become a significant concern. While the existing truck routes may suffice for current needs, they may not be adequate as the City expands and diversifies its land use. This highlights the need for a strategic approach to enhance the freight transportation network to accommodate future growth and alleviate congestion.

As Socorro continues to develop, identifying improvements to existing routes is imperative. Improving intersections and adding dedicated freight lanes where feasible can enhance access and decrease travel times for freight movement. Future land use plans should prioritize identifying and establishing new freight routes connecting key industrial areas with major highways and intermodal facilities, thus reducing the distance and time required for freight movement.

Rail

The Union Pacific Railroad runs through Socorro, transporting materials and industrial goods. Historically, the presence and development of railroads have significantly impacted the local community by providing access to larger markets and facilitating economic growth. While there are no rail stops in Socorro, the network has enabled market access and encouraged settlement, contributing to the growth of Socorro and its surrounding regions.

Throughout the public input process, many residents have expressed concerns about the rail system and the lack of public safety accessibility when trains pass through. These interruptions cause delays in emergency response times and negatively impact community members. Additionally, the lack of above-grade separation impacts mobility in Socorro and exacerbates traffic congestion, hindering the efficient movement of both vehicles and pedestrians.

Public Services & Infrastructure

Public services and infrastructure provide the backbone and lifeblood of a community. They ensure that residents are safe and have adequate resources and access to have a good quality of life. This element addresses the City's approach to providing essential services, infrastructure, and facilities to meet the needs of its residents, businesses, employees, and visitors as the city grows. This element also outlines goals and policies to guide the planning, development, and maintenance of services and facilities and serves as a blueprint for ensuring that Socorro's services and facilities remain effective, efficient, and responsive to the evolving needs of the community.

Public facilities and services are fundamental for a safe and healthy community and typically cover a large range of needs, including governmental services, parks and recreation, education, and public health and safety. Services covered under this element include publicly provided services as well as private and nonprofit services. These sectors offer services that fill gaps and provide support not currently covered by the City. These contracted services ensure community members have adequate access and help improve overall service quality. This element identifies the community's expectations regarding public services and the facilities needed to provide these services. The public facilities plan for Socorro focuses on both the building space and personnel needed to provide services such as police, fire, recreation, administration, and infrastructure for the city's residents. Public buildings that house the various governmental and service functions are generally of two types: those that serve the entire municipal area, and those that serve segments of the community on a service-area basis. Socorro's City Administrative Complex is an example of a governmental building that serves the entire community, while local schools and satellite police offices represent public buildings that typically serve a portion of the community's geographic area. Figure 6-1 shows the location of community facilities in Socorro.

Government Offices

Government offices serve as the administrative backbone for the community where the policies of the elected body get turned into action items for enactment by and through the administration of the city staff. The Socorro government offices are split between two primary locations. The Socorro Municipal Building houses offices of the Mayor, City Council, City Manager, City Clerk, Finance Department, and Human Resources. The City Administrative Complex in eastern Socorro, part of the historic district in that area, contains the Municipal Courtroom, City Council chambers, the Planning and Zoning Department, Information Technology, Code Enforcement, and Animal Services. Recreation Services staff are located across the street from the Administrative Complex in the Rio Vista Center. Additionally, the Parks and Public Works Department's main office is located in northern Socorro, and the Police Department is down the street. The Grants and Special Projects Department is located in the E.G. Chayo Apodaca Community Center next to the Police Department. The City desires to create a centralized and consolidated government complex as the dispersal of government facilities causes some impacts to efficiency and communication/coordination between departments.

Government services are provided by the following departments:

Parks & Public Works

The City of Socorro's Parks and Public Works Department is responsible for the operation and maintenance of streets, rights-of-way, infrastructure, drainage collections, City parks and facilities, and recreational equipment. Department staff have responsibility for numerous other City properties with duties such as mowing all parks and all roadside rights-of-way and creeks within the city limits where easements have been established. This daily work includes upkeep on grass, weeds, and visual hazards along the streets, sidewalks, pathways, and parks to ensure safe passage by motorists and pedestrians.

The Parks and Public Works Department is also responsible for compliance with the requirements of the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality, Texas Railroad Commission, Texas Water Development Board, and U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. This department plays a significant role in emergency preparedness and emergency management planning for the City and is responsible for the daily security and protection of all assets and infrastructure. This responsibility applies during all emergencies. The Parks and Public Works Department coordinates with the City management team, other City departments, and outside agencies to make timely decisions during emergencies and push accurate and timely notifications.

Recycling Center and Trash Service

The Socorro Recycling Center has facilities for residents to recycle cardboard, paper, and plastic. It does not accept glass, tires, or household trash. Residential and commercial trash pickup services in Socorro are provided by the Lower Valley Water District for a fee. It does accept large bulk items for a fee, but it also does one free bulk pickup per year and rents 20-, 30- and 40-yard roll-off construction dumpsters.

Grants and Special Projects

The primary function of the Grants and Special Projects Department is to assist Socorro's departments and nonprofit partner organizations in meeting the City's mission and vision. The Department promotes development and collaboration among the local government, community, and business sectors in Socorro by supporting local government project development and funding, developing and supporting economic development programs, and assisting in the growth and support of the nonprofit sector.

City Council

The Socorro City Council is composed of four City Council members elected by districts, one At-Large Representative, and the Mayor, who is elected at-large. City Council members and the Mayor are elected by Socorro residents and serve staggered four-year terms. The City Council is the legislative policy-making body of the City and is responsible for:

- Approving the annual budget,
- Approving contracts,
- Adopting regulatory ordinances and resolutions,
- Determining the tax rate,
- Providing direction to the City Manager and other City Council appointees, and
- Providing a forum for active community participation in setting and achieving City policies, goals, and objectives.

City Manager and Deputy City Manager

The City Manager is responsible for the City's day-to-day operations, applies direction for departments, implements City Council policies, and coordinates community issues. The Deputy City Manager supports the City Manager.

City Auditor

The City Auditor aids Socorro in achieving objectivity by taking a systematic, disciplined approach to evaluating and improving the effectiveness of risk management, control, and governance processes.

City Clerk

The City Clerk's office is the custodian of the City's official records, including ordinances, resolutions, deeds, contracts, leases, easements, annexation proceedings, petitions and minutes of City Council, and other official bodies. The Clerk serves as a public notary, processes all notices for publication, receives competitive bids, and records minutes of the official bid opening sessions. The City Clerk also conducts elections held every four years to elect the Mayor and City Council members.

Human Resources Department

The Human Resources Department is deeply committed to recruiting, retaining, and developing a forward-thinking workforce that serves the citizens of Socorro. With a focus on customer service and accountability, it strives to achieve high levels of customer satisfaction.

Finance Department

The Department offers effective and efficient financial planning, reporting, and support for other City departments and provides financial information and budget documents to the City Council and the City Manager. The Department has a fiduciary responsibility to safeguard the City's financial assets and manage its financial resources in accordance with the goals of the City Council, the City Manager, and the City's Charter and in compliance with applicable laws and generally accepted accounting and financial principles.

Information Technology

The Information Technology Department is responsible for administering and supporting technology architecture, hardware, software, voice data, and video infrastructure for City staff and officials. The Department also oversees the automation, installation, maintenance, management, integration, and security of the City's digital and physical network system mainframe.

Municipal Court

The Municipal Court serves the citizens of Socorro with a fair and impartial court of law by interpreting and adjudicating applicable state laws and city ordinances. The Court strives to provide efficient and effective services through the promotion of justice. It also provides reasonable accommodations to individuals with disabilities and individuals who speak languages other than English. The Judge presides over bench trials, jury trials, contempt proceedings, indigent hearings, pre-trials, show cause hearings, ordinance hearings, animal control hearings, and other court proceedings. The judge also performs magistrate functions, such as administering warnings to those arrested, setting bail, and issuing arrest warrants, search warrants, and summons.

Planning and Zoning

The Planning and Zoning Department is responsible for overseeing land use and development within Socorro, including all zoning and subdivision requests, business permitting, and building inspections. It also conducts meetings for the Planning and Zoning Commission, Board of Adjustments, and Building and Standards Commission.

Recreation Services

The Recreation Services Department provides a wide range of activities and programs to enhance the community's quality of life and promote health, wellness, and social interaction for all age groups.

Media and Communications

The Media and Communications team is responsible for the innovation, broadcasting, and distribution of information to the community through traditional and emerging media platforms. The team is also responsible for capturing photography/videography at City events, public relations, marketing, and branding. The team coordinates with other departments and outside agencies to provide effective and efficient responses to support the City.

Historic Preservation

Socorro's history has had such an important impact on shaping growth in the American Southwest. The Historic Preservation team works with other departments to celebrate and commemorate important historical resources within the City and enhance their preservation to be valuable resources for current and future generations. This is apparent with the May 2024 designation of the Rio Vista National Historic Landmark at Rio Vista Farm.

Public Art Program

Socorro's Public Art Program includes a group of passionate artists who work with the area's youth to provide grant-funded art pieces aimed at beautifying Socorro. The artists and the youth have collaborated to accomplish several art installations, exhibitions, and murals that are displayed throughout the city.

Public Facilities

Many of Socorro's public facilities, including some of the City parks, are old and in need of significant improvements. For example, both the Municipal Building on Horizon Boulevard and the Administrative Complex on Rio Vista Road are too small to house all the City's departments in one location. Consolidating all the government offices into one central location would provide a more efficient government operation and reduce traffic nearby while also being more convenient for residents by providing a "one-stop-shop." A new, consolidated Government Center or Municipal Building could also serve as an anchor for the city center in Socorro and provide an economic opportunity for associated growth, restaurants, and other amenities.

During the development of the 2040 Socorro Comprehensive Plan, residents expressed an ongoing need for amenities such as sidewalks; dedicated bike lanes on roads and bike paths and/or shared sidewalks, such as hike and bike trails throughout the community; shaded bus stops with seating along the established bus routes; public restrooms in parks; a combined centrally located government center complex; a larger and improved library; a public swimming pool with advanced amenities; and a dog park.

As a result of the public input collected, the City could consider creating a public facilities committee or contracting with a consultant who could evaluate all current and future needs of the City's public facilities. This would also entail ranking the facilities and issues that need to be corrected from "critical" to "urgent" to "important" to "unnecessary." It would establish a timeframe that specifies when facility issues and needs should be addressed, as well as determine how they would be paid for, either out of the General Fund Budget or Capital Improvement Budget or by applying for appropriate federal and state grant funding.

Public Safety

Police Department

The Socorro Police Department is essential for ensuring the city remains a safe and peaceable community through its mission to protect lives and property. The Department is a forward-thinking municipal police agency dedicated to serving Socorro’s citizens and visitors. The Socorro Police Department patrol the more than 27 square miles encompassed by the incorporated city limits.

During the public input process, participants emphasized that Socorro needs more police officers and a larger holding facility. They also highlighted the need for a police substation on the southwestern side of the railroad tracks to prevent trains from delaying the critical response times of emergency services.

The Socorro Police Department responds to approximately 28,000 calls for service each year.

Code Enforcement

The Code Compliance Department is in charge of ensuring adherence to City ordinances within the city limits to achieve the highest possible quality of life and a safe community for all current and future residents.

Animal Control

Socorro’s Animal Control Department provides care and control of lost, stray, and loose animals. Services include animal collection, vaccinations, adoptions, and pet returns.

Fire Department

The Socorro Volunteer Fire Department is part of the El Paso County Emergency Services District #2, and it enhances the public safety and welfare of the community by protecting life, property, and the environment. Firefighters are volunteers whose operations are funded through a districtwide portion of property and sales taxes. The Socorro Volunteer Fire Department also provides service to the communities of Clint, San Elizario, Fabens, Montana Vista, and Vinton. District #2 headquarters is planned for Socorro to provide a central location for the monthly district meetings.

Throughout the public input process, residents expressed a strong desire to transform the volunteer fire department into a paid force that is more available and better prepared for emergencies. This concern is also prevalent in other small towns within El Paso County. Socorro representatives have proposed paying the salaries of a few full-time firefighters, but the issue is complicated by the division between City and County finances, as well as the deployment of firefighters throughout the County. Hiring a few full-time firefighters would be feasible if the City is willing to commit funds for this purpose.

Ambulance Services

Elite Medical Transport of Texas, LLC, has been the ambulance provider for the City of Socorro since October 1, 2019. The company operates two ambulances dedicated to the City of Socorro with additional backup located in Horizon City and El Paso. They offer the most advanced emergency medical services available in El Paso County where its staff of paramedics and EMTs are highly trained and well-qualified. Patients can be transported to the hospital of their choice unless the destination is determined by local trauma or medical protocols. All billing is done by Elite Medical Transport and not the City of Socorro.

Public Health Clinics

Socorro residents feel that more public healthcare facilities, clinics, and services should be located within the City, not only to meet immediate emergency and urgent care needs but also to reduce the frequency of having to travel to El Paso for medical services. There are medical provider agencies that will co-op with a community and set up a clinic if the City and other larger employers are willing to ensure that all participating employees will use the clinic as their primary healthcare provider. Some of these provider agencies also offer dental care, vision, and hearing services in the clinics.

Las Palmas Del Sol Regional Hospital

The Las Palmas Del Sol Regional Hospital is the closest full-service medical facility to Socorro and is located just northeast of Socorro's city limits. It is recognized as a full-service hospital with a 24-hour Emergency Room and offers services that include family and community medicine, internal medicine, obstetrics and gynecology, and pediatrics. It provides primary care and family medicine to Socorro's residents, as well as additional specialty services.

Educational Facilities

Socorro Independent School District

The Socorro Independent School District (SISD) serves the southeastern portion of El Paso County, covering over 136 square miles. It serves the City of Socorro, Horizon City, and the eastern portion of the City of El Paso. The SISD is one of the fastest-growing school districts in Texas. Table 6-1 includes information on the SISD schools within Socorro.

Head Start Program

Head Start is a federally funded early childhood education and development program that partners with school districts, local agencies, social services, and healthcare providers for low-income families. The program offers a high-quality, comprehensive early childhood development and education package, including pre-kindergarten. The program's services are designed to increase children's school readiness and future preparedness.

The program also offers a range of free services designed to foster the healthy development of children from birth until age five. Services extended to Head Start children and families include healthcare, education, nutrition, disabilities, mental health, and family services. Socorro includes four Head Start program locations: Escontrias Early Childhood Center, Hueco Elementary School, and H.D. Hilley Elementary School.

El Paso Community College — Mission Del Paso Campus

The El Paso Community College — Mission del Paso campus is just outside Socorro's municipal limits to the northeast. This campus offers a full range of classes and certifications in technical and vocational programs such as accounting, industrial manufacturing, advanced technology, court reporting, dental assisting and hygiene, digital video production, and nursing. It also offers degree programs in traditional academic disciplines such as art, biology, geology, and mathematics.

In 2000, the college opened a state-of-the-art Law Enforcement Training Academy, which meets the training needs of area law enforcement agencies and provides a full spectrum of training programs for security guards and peace officers. In 2004, to accommodate growth, a new building opened to provide much-needed space to house instructional labs for English as a Second Language (ESL), reading, and general tutoring services, along with faculty offices and two multipurpose classrooms. All student services are available including admission, registration, financial aid, and counseling.

Infrastructure and Utilities

The infrastructure of Socorro is the backbone of the community, underpinning essential services and facilitating the city's growth and development. This section assesses the current infrastructure, identifies challenges, and outlines strategic recommendations to enhance service delivery and support the community's evolving needs. As Socorro continues to grow, the strategic enhancement and continued maintenance of its infrastructure is vital for ensuring efficiency, sustainability, and the well-being of its residents.

Socorro's utility infrastructure is a critical yet often unseen framework that undergirds the City's day-to-day operations and reinforces its potential for growth. It encompasses a diverse and complex network of water, power, natural gas, and communications services that facilitate the comfort and convenience of modern living. While the City of Socorro does not directly own these utility services, it plays a pivotal role in ensuring that the provision of these essential services is seamless, sustainable, and poised to meet the burgeoning demands of its growing population. Through strategic alliances with utility providers, Socorro manages to offer comprehensive coverage to its residents and businesses while also identifying areas within the city that would benefit from enhanced utility expansion. The relationship between the City and utility providers is symbiotic, with ongoing dialogue aimed at understanding service origins, managing efficient delivery, and strategizing over the extension of utility infrastructure into new developments and existing underserved areas.

Water and Wastewater

The Lower Valley Water District (LVWD) manages water and wastewater services in Socorro, with a water supply sourced from the El Paso Water Utility. The LVWD was created as a municipal utility district in 1986 in El Paso County. The City of Socorro and the community of San Elizario, the Town of Clint and El Paso County Sparks Addition, Sand Hills, and El Paso County Colonias are located within the LVWD's boundaries. A Board of Directors consisting of five members who are elected by the district's taxpaying residents provide oversight of the LVWD. The Board, along with the management and staff of the LVWD, work diligently to achieve the goal of providing water, wastewater, and solid waste services within the service area.

The LVWD oversees the distribution network within city limits, ensuring that residents' and businesses' water needs are met efficiently and reliably. Socorro's wastewater system, comprising gravity and force mains, directs waste to the Roberto Bustamante Wastewater Treatment Plant just outside the city's western boundary. This maintains the City's sanitation and environmental health. The LVWD regularly applies for funding from local, state, and federal agencies to construct adequate water and wastewater systems for the 210 square miles within the district's boundaries, which lie east of the El Paso city limits. Looking forward, the wastewater infrastructure is set for strategic expansion. Initiatives are underway to extend the sewer service areas and construct a new lift station, which is indicative of the LVWD's commitment to meeting the increasing demand for services. These enhancements aim to broaden coverage to unserved areas, cater to new subdivisions, and revitalize existing sectors in need of improvements.

The El Paso County Water Improvement District No. 1 provides additional irrigation water service within El Paso County. The district delivers surface water from the Rio Grande in El Paso County to water right lands within its 156-square mile services area through more than 350 miles of canals and laterals in the distribution system and over 269 miles in the drainage system. The district also assesses and collects taxes for the water right lands within its boundaries. Conservation and efficient delivery of surface water are high priorities for the district. A five-member Board of Directors oversees the district's operations.

Electric and Natural Gas

El Paso Electric (EPE) provides Socorro with electricity through a comprehensive network of overhead distribution lines. This network is essential for powering residential, commercial, educational, and other establishments, thus serving as the backbone of the City's energy infrastructure. EPE demonstrates its dedication to Socorro through rigorous management of the electrical supply and proactive response to the increasing energy demands associated with growth. Although there are no significant upgrades planned in the near future, the infrastructure is constantly evaluated to maintain its resilience, efficiency, and capacity to meet the evolving needs of Socorro.

Texas Gas Service (TGS) supplies natural gas to Socorro through a complex network of pipelines to ensure reliable and safe delivery to the community. TGS's strategic planning and continuous maintenance of this network reflect a strong commitment to providing seamless service while also expanding to accommodate new developments within Socorro.

Communications Infrastructure

The communications infrastructure in Socorro is powered by providers like AT&T and Time Warner, who maintain a complex array of cables and fiber optics. This network not only facilitates essential communications but also supports the digital infrastructure that modern life demands. As technology progresses, Socorro's partnerships with these providers ensure that the City's communications infrastructure remains at the leading edge, capable of supporting everything from everyday communications to telecommuting and remote learning.

Identifying and targeting areas within Socorro for enhanced utility coverage is a key strategic objective. With the growth of residential communities and commercial corridors, the City is aware of the need for a concerted effort to expand utility services. This includes not only addressing the physical extension of infrastructure but also ensuring equitable access, sustainability, and the capacity to support future technological innovations.

Organizational Development

A strategic approach to organizational development is important to implementing the City of Socorro's Comprehensive Plan. This method ensures that the City's goals and policies listed in the Plan are approached through a structured evaluation of staffing needs, training programs, community interfacing software, management systems, and integration of new technology. By systematically identifying the areas where improvements are needed, the City can make informed decisions about resource allocation while preparing the annual budget.

Capital Improvement Plan

Socorro's Capital Improvement Plan (CIP) outlines the City's approach to managing significant capital expenditures over the next five years and is updated on a regular basis. Coordinating the planning of municipal infrastructure, such as roads, utilities, and other community essentials, is fundamental to its purpose. By integrating community planning, fiscal strategy, and infrastructure needs, the CIP ensures the judicious use of limited financial resources.

Funding mechanisms within the CIP include ad valorem taxes, roadway funds from TxDOT, and various forms of bond financing such as General Obligation Bonds, Revenue Bonds, and Certificates of Obligation. These bonds support substantial projects and facilitate the maintenance and expansion of vital infrastructure. The plan emphasizes prudent financial management by spreading costs over time through debt financing, allowing for regular investment in the maintenance and expansion of City services and facilities.

The CIP is updated annually to reflect changes in financial forecasts and project priorities, maintaining alignment with Socorro's long-term development goals. It operates in conjunction with the annual operating budget to ensure financial sustainability and to strategically time infrastructure improvements that support the City's expansion and service enhancements. This proactive and flexible planning framework is crucial for meeting the current and future needs of Socorro's residents and businesses.

Community Resilience

Building a sustainable and resilient community is foundational to Socorro’s health and success. The City aims to create a balanced, adaptable, and thriving environment for current and future generations. This commitment includes considerations and innovative approaches to environmental planning, sustainable use of water resources, and exploring renewable energy options. As growth occurs in the historically agricultural portions of the community, there is a desire among residents to maintain their ranching roots while effectively managing new development. As a part of this initiative, community members actively advocate for developing a future that is mindful of the practices that make the community sustainable and resilient. Integrating sustainable practices helps mitigate environmental impacts and enhances the community's ability to withstand and adapt to future challenges.

Environmental Planning

With anticipated development and population growth, it is critical to acknowledge the risks that changes in climate and environmental factors pose to the City of Socorro. As Socorro's population increases and its infrastructure develops, construction projects, road improvements, and utility installations will inevitably impact the natural environment. Socorro should plan for these challenges and work to mitigate adverse impacts associated with future development. Such environmental concerns can cumulatively affect both the developed and outlying areas of the City, impacting its residents and their health and quality of life.

Long-term environmental planning revolves around creating sustainable development that caters to people's needs and prioritizes conserving and protecting the natural environment. This planning approach considers social, economic, and environmental impacts. Environmental planning involves decision-making processes for managing relationships between natural systems and human systems. Cumulative effects on environmental resources occur when the incremental impact of an action combines with current conditions and planned future projects. These effects can stem from individual minor actions that, together over time, lead to significant impacts. To address potential adverse impacts from future development projects, Socorro should identify and implement effective mitigation measures. Coordination with local, state, and federal agencies will be necessary to ensure the success of these projects.

Environmental planning is a widespread component of this Comprehensive Plan and applies to every element, such as in the form of ecologically friendly land use and development, multimodal transportation, housing characteristics, efficient water and resource management, connected trails and parks systems, and sustainable infrastructure development. Integrating environmental considerations into these facets is essential for fostering a holistic and sustainable approach to future development. Through 2040, it will be necessary to remain aware of and incorporate new technological advances that support environmental planning and sustainable development into the fabric of the community.

Green Infrastructure

Environmental planning practices that benefit current and future generations should be prioritized. Residents will benefit from creating an environment where the past and the present coexist and agriculture and the structures of progress intertwine, fostering a vibrant and sustainable community that cherishes its roots while reaching toward a promising future.

As Socorro grows, it is critical to balance the natural and built environments by supporting planning practices that emphasize conservation and preservation methods. This framework advocates for the integration of open spaces, contributing to the enhancement of community health.

Green infrastructure is an interconnected network of protected land and water that supports native species, maintains natural and ecological processes, sustains air and water resources, and contributes to the health and quality of life for communities and people. It includes trails, wildlife corridors, parks, drainage ponds, wetland, and other natural areas.

Site Design

Stormwater drainage is a significant issue in Socorro, with parts of the City, particularly those near the interstate, experiencing periodic flooding. To address this, the implementation and maintenance of detention and retention basins, outlet structures, and drainage channels is essential. Managing stormwater is critical for controlling runoff from storm events and for preserving and enhancing surface water quality, as well as ensuring resident safety. Development often increases the quantity of impervious areas with elements such as pavements, roofs, and roads. These impervious areas not only increase the volume of runoff entering surface water bodies but also trap contaminants like oil, heavy metals, and pollutants, which negatively impact water quality and riparian habitats.

By implementing low-impact development and green infrastructure, it is possible to replicate natural processes that encourage infiltration, evapotranspiration, and efficient utilization of stormwater. This approach helps protect water quality and the associated riparian habitats. Several practices adhere to these principles, including promoting reduced irrigation needs through xeriscaping and use of native plants in landscape designs, prioritizing non-turf areas that require less water and maintenance than turf lawns, and encouraging the use of permeable pavements in public and private developments to promote infiltration. Additionally, employing low-volume watering methods such as drip irrigation systems helps avoid excessive watering and reduces water usage. Minimizing the use of fertilizers and pesticides in favor of less-toxic alternatives like composted organic material, using mulch or straw to prevent erosion and reduce weed growth, and opting for less-hazardous household products for cleaning, car care, and home improvement can also mitigate stormwater pollution. Proper disposal of pet and livestock waste is crucial to prevent runoff pollution from reaching nearby water bodies or storm drains. By adopting these practices, Socorro can effectively manage stormwater and protect its environmental resources. Integrating sustainable practices into site design principles is a pivotal aspect of environmental planning efforts. These considerations should be codified and evaluated when reviewing new development or redevelopment proposals. Spaces should continue to evolve and adapt to changing environmental conditions and community needs over time.

Infiltration is the process by which water on the ground surface enters the soil.

Evapotranspiration is the process by which water evaporates from the land and passes into the atmosphere.

These play a key role in agricultural irrigation and water resource management.

Conservation Subdivisions

Socorro should continue to integrate new development seamlessly into the existing fabric of ranching culture, fostering a sense of continuity and pride in the City's rich history. As a way to accomplish this, Socorro should develop conservation subdivisions to complement the existing traditional subdivisions. As the community grows, typical development patterns are not aligned with the community's desires to preserve agricultural and open spaces. Conservation subdivisions help protect environmentally sensitive areas. Typically, they preserve 40% to 70% or more of the total acreage as open space, which can include agricultural lands, parks, and other open spaces or natural areas. This open space is protected through conservation easements or deed restrictions and is managed by homeowners' associations or land trusts.

Homes are typically clustered on smaller lots, allowing for the preservation of larger contiguous areas of open space. This clustering reduces the overall footprint of the development and minimizes land disturbance. Conservation subdivisions enhance stormwater management by slowing and filtering runoff through natural landscapes and bioretention facilities, reducing the risk of flooding and protecting water quality. They also reduce infrastructure costs, as shorter roads and utility lines are needed. Residents benefit from recreational opportunities and scenic views provided by the preserved open spaces. These areas can include walking and biking trails, play areas, and community gardens, fostering a stronger sense of community.

A conservation subdivision is a type of residential development that preserves a significant portion of the site as permanently protected open space while clustering homes on the remaining portion of the site. This approach integrates environmental conservation with residential development.

Sustainability Considerations

- Landscaping: Incorporating large-canopy trees and native plants can contribute to city cooling efforts and will support habitat for local wildlife.
- Stormwater: Proper stormwater management through intentional design principles can minimize runoff and limit the erosion of the environment. On-site ponding and stormwater mitigation can aid flood control if all properties replicate a site's predevelopment hydrologic function.
- Low-Impact Infrastructure: Encouraging the use of permeable surfaces and pavements can improve water drainage, reduce runoff, and minimize environmental impact, fostering sustainable development and mitigating the risks of flooding and erosion.

Water Resources

Effective management of water resources is crucial for Socorro to meet current and future demands. With a large agricultural population and emerging residential, commercial, and industrial development, water security is essential for supporting a thriving community. The City should consider developing a comprehensive water management plan that addresses the social, economic, and environmental aspects of water usage while protecting and rehabilitating water quality and quantity. Investing in both the management of existing resources and the exploration of additional practices can support a sustainable water supply for future growth and development.

Like many areas in the region, Socorro faces challenges related to water scarcity and the need for sustainable water management. The City has implemented aggressive water conservation programs, including restrictions on outdoor watering during peak evaporation months and the promotion of water-efficient fixtures. The El Paso County Water Improvement District No. 1 manages irrigation infrastructure and delivers water for agricultural purposes, which is vital for local farmers.

Throughout the development of the 2040 Comprehensive Plan, residents and landowners who rely on agriculture for their livelihood have expressed concerns about the quality and quantity of water resources available for watering their crops. This has impacted crop yields, and some agriculture operators are considering selling their land as it has become economically difficult to maintain agricultural operations. The City should continue to promote sustainable planning and efficient use of water resources through water conservation and drought planning programs.

Flooding is another significant issue in Socorro. The Texas Water Development Board and local authorities have developed flood management plans to address risks and improve infrastructure. These plans include sediment and vegetation control, drainage studies, and stormwater management initiatives for Socorro and surrounding areas. The region relies heavily on groundwater, which is being depleted faster than it can be recharged. This overexploitation poses a long-term risk to water availability, making efforts to conserve groundwater and manage its use more sustainably essential.

Lower Valley Water District

The Lower Valley Water District (LVWD) distributes and maintains water and wastewater in Socorro. In addition to overseeing the maintenance of water and wastewater systems, the LVWD operates and maintains irrigation canals, laterals, drains, and other waterways critical for delivering surface water for irrigation. The LVWD sources its water supply from the El Paso Water Utility through master meters.

Within the City of Socorro limits, the LVWD is responsible for operating, maintaining, and overseeing billing for the distribution network. The infrastructure of the LVWD was designed to support build-out and is well-positioned to meet the demands of future water and sewer services development.

The LVWD has undertaken multiple phases of infrastructure upgrades to improve water and wastewater services. These projects include constructing major wastewater interceptors, lift stations, water transmission lines, and storage facilities. Significant investments from federal and state programs, such as the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law, are being directed toward upgrading water infrastructure in Socorro. This includes expanding sewer systems and improving water treatment facilities to ensure clean and reliable water supplies. By continuing these efforts, Socorro can address its water resource challenges and support sustainable development.

Rio Grande

Frequent droughts in Texas expose Socorro to the risk of water scarcity, emphasizing the need for proactive management and stewardship to safeguard water resources and community needs. In Socorro, the relationship between water resources and agriculture is significant for the local farming community. Given the region's concentration of agriculture and farming practices, irrigation emerges as a vital component for supporting robust crop growth. The Rio Grande, flowing west of the City, is a crucial water source for irrigation. The El Paso County Water Improvement District No. 1 manages the irrigation canals. Water quality and quantity management is imperative to prevent adverse effects on soil fertility and crop health. Implementing efficient irrigation technologies, such as drip irrigation, becomes essential to optimize water use, particularly in the face of occasional drought conditions. The careful management of water resources is central to sustaining local agriculture, ensuring the resiliency of crops, and fostering the long-term viability of the farming community amid unique regional challenges.

Water Policy

In 2023, the State of Texas passed several propositions related to water policy, offering potential benefits for Socorro. Among these, Proposition 6 is a constitutional amendment designed to establish two accounts to help fund water projects: the State Water Implementation Fund of Texas and the State Water Implementation Revenue Fund of Texas.

The funds could assist in financing community projects, including the construction of new reservoirs, repairing pipes, and recharging groundwater. Notably, Proposition 6 includes provisions specifying that a minimum of 20% of the allocated funds must be directed toward conservation and reuse efforts, with an additional 10% reserved for rural areas. This allocation for rural areas can benefit Socorro and contribute to agricultural conservation endeavors.

Energy

El Paso Electric (EPE) provides electric service in Socorro, operating overhead distribution lines that extend services across the City. The El Paso Regional Climate Action Plan includes projects to install public electric vehicle charging stations and transition municipal fleets to electric or low-emission vehicles, which will help reduce greenhouse gas emissions and promote cleaner energy use. The Socorro Independent School District also received significant federal funding to replace diesel buses with electric models, contributing to improved air quality and reduced operational costs.

In Socorro, numerous residential properties face significant challenges in establishing utility connections, which hinders the extension of electricity services to these areas. This is due to previous residential developments that were created without proper infrastructure planning. Coordination efforts with EPE are necessary to supply power to residents experiencing these issues. EPE has a diverse range of energy sources, including nuclear fuel, natural gas, purchased power, solar, and wind turbines.

Renewable Energy

El Paso Electric has been working to increase its renewable energy portfolio and reduce reliance on nonrenewable energy sources. Various solar projects throughout the State contribute to the group's goal of achieving 80% carbon-free energy by 2035 and 100% by 2045. The transition to renewable energy faces challenges such as the need for funding, regulatory support, and the development of local renewable energy projects.

While some renewable energy sources are being utilized, Socorro should consider exploring alternative energy solutions to reduce dependence on traditional sources. While renewable energy sources are becoming more cost-effective, the initial investment for infrastructure and technology remains high. Continuing to explore state and federal grants can help address financial challenges that are associated with renewables. Additionally, diversifying energy resources, particularly solar and wind, for commercial and residential properties enhances community resiliency. Socorro should investigate cost-effective energy efficiency measures such as amending development codes to encourage energy-conscious building designs and promoting adoption of energy-saving technologies.

Administration & Implementation

Implementation and administration of the Comprehensive Plan is authorized in accordance Chapter 213 of the Texas Local Government Code (LGC). Administration of the Comprehensive Plan is focused on the nuts and bolts of update and maintenance—when and how to make revisions—and how to interpret the Plan Implementation of the plan is focused on how to meet the goals and accomplish the policies identified within each element. Implementation is only possible if there are available resources. These include funding, staff, and public as well as municipal support.

Plan Administration

Plan Adoption

Chapter 213 of the Texas LGC authorizes a municipality's governing body to adopt a comprehensive plan for its long-range development. The plan's purpose is to promote sound municipal development and enhance public health, safety, and welfare. It may include provisions on land use, transportation, and public facilities.

The adoption of a comprehensive plan requires a public hearing, during which the public can provide testimony and present written evidence. The plan must also be reviewed by the City's planning commission and City Council. Following the public hearing and review, the comprehensive plan may be adopted or amended by ordinance.

Interpretation

The Comprehensive Plan may be used to coordinate and guide the establishment of development regulations. A municipality may define the relationship between a comprehensive plan and development regulations and provide standards for determining the required consistency between them.

The Comprehensive Plan and the Future Land Use Map do not constitute zoning regulations or establish zoning district boundaries but are meant to guide zoning. Zoning regulations must be adopted in accordance with the Comprehensive Plan and must be designed to promote public health, safety, and welfare.

The Comprehensive Plan provides for reasonable flexibility in interpretation. However, to remain relevant over time, the Plan should be annually reviewed. It should be kept current but not continuously amended due to developments in progress.

Plan Amendments

Amendments to this Comprehensive Plan may be initiated by the City or requested by private individuals or agencies in accordance with the procedures set forth in state law. Similar to the adoption process, amendments require a public hearing where the public can provide input for consideration. The proposed amendments must be reviewed by the City's Planning and Zoning Commission before going to City Council for approval. Following the public hearing and review, amendments are adopted by ordinance.

Plan Implementation

The Implementation Plan includes actions to achieve the goals and policies of the Comprehensive Plan. This set of actions will be carried out over the next 15-20 years to help the City accomplish the vision, goals, and policies adopted in the Socorro 2040 Comprehensive Plan. The actions should be addressed within specific timeframes to facilitate the continued advancement of the Plan's goals and policies. Many mid- and long-term actions are dependent on the completion of short-term and ongoing actions.

Creating a Comprehensive Plan Implementation Committee comprised of the City of Socorro executive leadership and a Councilperson liaison is recommended to assist in implementing the goals and policies within the plan. This committee would analyze assets needed to implement the plan, such as staffing needs, training programs, community interfacing software, management systems, and recommendations for integrating new technology. Creating the Comprehensive Plan Implementation Committee will ensure the plan's successful implementation and bridge the gap between goals and policies within the plan, organizational development, and budget preparations.

Implementation Action Timeframes

The following timeframes are meant to be a guide for completing the implementation actions identified in Table 8-1. Completion of the actions may be dependent upon available City resources such as staff and budget.

Ongoing

Actions should occur on a continuous basis once implemented.

Short-term

Actions should be completed within 1 to 4 years of Plan adoption.

Mid-term

Actions should be completed within 5 to 10 years of Plan adoption.

Long-term

Actions should be completed more than 10 years after Plan adoption.

Target industries

Target industries reflect those industries that are important to a local or regional economy, now and in the future. Identifying target industries matters only to the extent that a community works to actually “target” efforts to support said industry. The strategies and action section details specific strategies to grow Socorro's economy through catalytic entrepreneurial support, business support to existing businesses, marketing, and policies to support growth and workforce initiatives. Nonetheless, a successful target industry initiative must begin with a solid framework that employs quantitative, qualitative, and strategic methods. After a comprehensive analysis of the opportunities, assets, and challenges gathered from public input completed during the community outreach and secondary data, and in the context of the five-year period for this strategic plan, the following six industries are the target sectors for the City of Socorro as priority areas.<sup>1</sup>

- Tourism<sup>2</sup>
- Retail
- Transportation and warehousing
- Construction
- Manufacturing
- Accommodation and food services

Top three ARPA-funded recommendations for impact investments

- ▶ Top 1 strategy. Expand the existing partnership with Project Vida for targeted business technical assistance and financial support.
- ▶ Top 2 strategy. Expand the existing partnership with Workforce Borderplex Solutions (WBS) to increase services for both job seekers and businesses.
- ▶ Top 3 strategy: Focus on promoting heritage and cultural tourism and retail along the Mission Trail, which corresponds to the Socorro Corridor located along Socorro Road.

<sup>2</sup> Tourism is not a NAICS code industry. Occupations presented are based on career pathways related to lodging, recreation, restaurants and food/beverage services, and travel and tourism.

This urban area, home to over 3 million people, benefits from its location along Interstate 10 and its proximity to international points of entry. Historically, Socorro is part of the southern segment of El Camino Real de Tierra Adentro, locally known as the Mission Trail, reflecting its rich cultural heritage and longstanding regional significance.

How to read this plan

This section provides context for navigating the document and key definitions of terms used to optimize understanding.

Plan framework

The plan has been developed in sections, including the project background and scope of work and the importance of this economic recovery strategic plan as a tool to recover from the lingering negative impacts of COVID-19. This is followed by the guiding principles distilled from the community outreach process and data analysis. Lastly, goals, strategies, an action plan, and strategic performance metrics are included. This plan is intended to be a five-year plan.

Definitions:

Guiding principles reflect a community's residents' values, allowing this plan to be framed based on the community's priorities.

The top three ARPA-funded strategies recommendations for impact investments are covered, given limited funding resources, including those available through the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA). These initiatives are detailed as part of short-term strategies and action steps and are intended to support the City of Socorro in its decision-making,

The goals serve as the foundation, providing a visionary and ambitious target that reflects the desired future state or outcome. They are broad, encompassing, and long-term, often addressing key areas such as economic growth, employment, and resilience. Each goal includes a series of corresponding strategies.

Strategies are the bridge between goals and actions, outlining the approach to achieving these goals with several interconnected actions. Strategies are more specific than goals but still somewhat broad, illustrating the method of change that will guide efforts. Strategies consider the resources, strengths, and challenges unique to the situation and frame a coherent plan of attack.

Strategies are listed in priority order for each timeframe given below. Each strategy includes a timeframe, either short, medium, or long-term.

 Short-term (Year 1)    Medium-term (Year 2-3)    Long-term (Year 4-5)

Actions are the plan's most concrete and specific elements. These are the individual steps that will be taken to execute the strategy. They include detailed tasks, projects, programs, and policies needed to achieve the goals and ensure measurable and impactful progress.

Key metrics measure the progress or outcomes of the plan and its parts, including those reflecting the achievement and completion of the actions. They also ensure efficiency and timeliness and serve as a feedback system. These metrics allow for celebrating success and adjusting when necessary.

Project background

In July 2023, the City of Socorro engaged Ascendo Strategies to develop an economic recovery strategic plan to help focus and optimize economic recovery efforts, especially after the devastating economic downturn caused by COVID-19. The economic recovery strategic plan has been developed in sections, including an evaluation of the negative impacts of COVID-19 on the community, followed by an assessment of the importance of this strategic economic recovery plan for a stronger recovery. Lastly, goals, strategies, action steps, implementation support recommendations, and strategic performance metrics are included.

Phase 1. Discovery

This plan was informed by a comprehensive evaluation of internal and external factors impacting Socorro's economic future. The process included three major areas of focus: a multifaceted entrepreneurial approach to continue to support new and existing business owners, including a business incubator management plan; a holistic evaluation of opportunities for Socorro specific to retail; and lastly, an overarching economic recovery strategic plan bringing the biggest opportunities for Socorro into actionable items for the short, medium, and long terms.

Community outreach was critical in informing a robust strategic plan for economic recovery. This process included the kick-off meeting with city staff to define priorities, followed by the City's staff review and approval of the public participation plan, and the presentation of community input before the City Council as an opportunity to bring awareness of the key findings during the community outreach process. Implementing the public participation plan as the community outreach effort allowed for collecting primary data, which was then summarized in the SWOT analysis and via the survey summary report. Important elements of the community outreach effort included connecting with local community members and regional stakeholders through one-on-one conversations, focus groups, a visioning exercise with the City's leadership, and surveys to the business owners and the community at large. Discussions with the City Council were also held.

In parallel to collecting primary data, a comprehensive analysis based on secondary data was completed, resulting in the community profile. The community profile includes a review of socioeconomic and demographic data, an understanding of the economic conditions of the City, a poverty profile, and target industries and occupations. Additionally, a holistic analysis of retail was completed, which included understanding the key business and consumer characteristics relevant to retail, a peer community comparing Socorro to similar communities to draw possible opportunities for the City, and a leakage evaluation and an analysis of the retail market potential. Specific to the commercial corridors within the City, an understanding of the trade areas nearby was completed, followed by a review of the composition of existing businesses along them. The discovery process also included evaluating the entrepreneurial ecosystem, with the vision to include support for new and existing businesses, including how to best support

Latino and Spanish-speaking communities. Lastly, the management and operations of a business incubator covered key aspects of the operation of a business incubator as a business center to build upon challenges and opportunities in the community.

Phase 2. Opportunities

Opportunities were evaluated based on the City's vision at each step in the discovery process. The goals and strategies were crafted using input from the City's leadership, community members, and regional stakeholders as a benchmark for the desired outcomes.

Each section of the overall work completed presents key findings from multiple data sources, including primary and secondary data. The overall analysis resulted in crafting strategies and action steps included in this strategic plan.

Below is a summary of each segment of the overall analysis, providing context to the strategies, action items, and key metrics in this document.

Community outreach

The data source was from community outreach surveys, one-on-one meetings, focus groups, and visioning exercises conducted in October and November 2023. These provided valuable insights into the economic perspectives of Socorro residents and business owners. Most respondents supported prioritizing Socorro's cultural and historical tourism to drive economic growth. Business owners highlighted gaps in support services, including financial and digital literacy knowledge and a lack of awareness. Community outreach participants needed amenities like high-speed internet and office spaces. Data collected through this outreach identified key industries as the largest contributors to jobs and businesses, including food, beverage, and retail. Findings from the surveys in the areas of challenges for businesses confirmed those gathered through community outreach as part of the Business Incubator Feasibility Study in 2021.

Community profile

From a comprehensive analysis, eight target industries for Socorro were chosen based on quantitative data and public input: transportation and warehousing, construction, manufacturing, retail, accommodations and food services, tourism, educational services, healthcare and social assistance. The analysis emphasized that while manufacturing and construction declined in the number of jobs within the analysis period, they remain significant job sources and tax revenue for the municipality, and therefore, their positive economic impact on the community. The profile also underscored the need to focus on retail and hospitality to support economic recovery as key areas of strength and specialization compared to the region and the state. Furthermore, in prioritizing feasible activities within the strategic plan, target industries were reduced to focus on transportation and warehousing, construction, manufacturing, retail trade, accommodations and food services, and tourism, given the current assets and the potential of catalytic opportunities.

Peer communities' comparison

Comparing Socorro with peer communities such as Weslaco, San Juan, and San Benito—the three communities of similar size, along the border, and of suburban nature—highlights Socorro's relative strengths and areas for improvement. Socorro shows lower educational attainment and household income levels than its peers, indicating the need for targeted economic development initiatives. However, Socorro's construction and transportation sectors are relatively strong, providing a solid foundation for future growth. The comparison suggests improving educational and economic opportunities to elevate the community's socioeconomic status.

Key business and consumer characteristics

The analysis of key business and consumer characteristics focused on the strategic retail, hospitality, and entertainment industries, which collectively employ 2,784 individuals and generate significant sales and tax revenue. The consumer profile shows a young, predominantly Hispanic population with increasing income levels and a growing number of households for the next five years with substantial economic potential, suggesting a robust market potential for retail and other services. The study also compared Socorro to synthetic areas within the El Paso region, providing benchmarks to understand local market dynamics better and guide targeted economic initiatives.

Leakage analysis and retail market potential

Socorro experienced significant retail leakage in key areas such as general merchandise stores, automobile dealers, and restaurants. The leakage is primarily due to the proximity to larger urban areas and limited local supply. Addressing these gaps by enhancing local offerings and diversifying retail options could recapture a significant portion of spending currently lost to neighboring communities, thus boosting local economic activity and supporting business growth.

The spending on convenience retailers is expected to increase by $55.3 million annually from 2024 to 2028 in the City of Socorro; spending at attraction retailers is expected to grow by $53.7 million annually for the same five years. This is a projected total annual spending of about $109.1 million, primarily attributed to anticipated population growth and the rise in median income in Socorro. However, changes in the economic conditions would potentially alter these forecasts.

The study identifies significant opportunities in the restaurant, highlighting that the city could support up to 19 new restaurants, enhancing local dining options and reducing retail leakage. Strategic efforts to catalyze new retail businesses are recommended to capitalize on this potential and foster economic resilience.

Furthermore, based on key findings from the retail analysis—including the leakage analysis, retail market potential, corridor analysis, and comparisons with peer communities—and considering Socorro's priorities, an additional evaluation was conducted to identify specific retail priorities. The evaluation set criteria to assess current and future opportunities for retail, focusing on current leakage, future leakage, and the potential for new businesses. The analysis identified grocery stores, with the highest current and future leakage and potential for four new businesses, as a top priority to alleviate food deserts. Restaurants also emerged as a key focus, with the potential to add 19 new establishments, enhancing culinary diversity and dining experiences. Additionally, clothing stores were identified as a niche market opportunity, with the potential for two new businesses to capture apparel retail demand and reduce spending leakage.

Retail corridor analysis

Finally, the retail corridor analysis identifies four key corridors in Socorro: Nuevo Hueco Tanks Road, Horizon Boulevard, Alameda Avenue, and Historical Mission Trail. Each corridor is assessed on its current business composition and the socio-economic and demographic characteristics of two trade areas within the five and ten-mile radius from the central point to each corridor. Each area offers unique opportunities for retail development. For example, the Historical Mission Trail Corridor has significant potential for heritage tourism, leveraging Socorro's cultural assets. Improving infrastructure, such as parking and pedestrian pathways, and enhancing the overall attractiveness of these corridors are crucial for fostering retail growth and economic vitality. Similarly, the Alameda Avenue Corridor, with a concentration of fast-food restaurants and personal care services, presents opportunities for diversification and improved commercial activity. Also, Alameda and Socorro Corridors have grocery stores: Walmart Neighborhood Market and Vista Quality Market Socorro along Alameda Road and Bodega Loya, along Socorro Road.

Phase 3. Implementation

Considering the opportunities and challenges gathered through the analysis, strategies, an action plan, and key performance metrics were defined. In addition to the analysis completed as part of this work, the implementation stage incorporates previous work from the Business Incubator Feasibility Study completed in 2021 and its complementary work through the Business Incubator Management and Operations report completed in 2023.

This strategic plan is a document that must be kept alive through regular revisions and amendments as conditions change. Given the fast-changing economic environment, it must remain flexible and dynamic in its implementation, including regularly revisiting the plan to measure progress and reprioritize strategies and actions as needed. In addition to the crafted short, medium, and long-term strategies, a

Economic recovery from COVID-19

Assessment of the impact of COVID-19 on the City of Socorro

In March 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic caused a severe public health crisis and, eventually, an economic recession in the United States. The recession finished the largest business cycle expansion in the nation since it was recorded (128 consecutive months)<sup>3</sup>. The drastic decrease in business activity caused the loss of approximately 22 million jobs nationwide within two months, leading to a substantial increase in the unemployment rate to 14.7% by April 2020.

On March 27, 2020, a bill called the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES) was signed to mitigate economic damage. The CARES Act was designed to facilitate recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic recession and included $2.2 trillion in funds and resources. This stimulus was distributed nationwide to support unemployed individuals, small businesses, families, corporations, essential services such as healthcare providers, and state and local governments. On March 11, the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) was passed as an additional rescue package to complement the CARES Act. ARPA, worth $1.9 trillion, included extended unemployment compensation, higher child tax credits, and a continuation of eviction and foreclosure moratoriums. Funds were also allocated to the state and local governments, which helped them compensate for the lost tax revenues they incurred. To provide funds to state, local, and Tribal governments to provide resources to mitigate the continuous effects of the pandemic and its negative economic effects and to build a stronger, more equitable economy during the recovery, the Coronavirus State and Local Fiscal Recovery Funds (SLFRF) were sectioned from the overall ARPA funds. Under the "Final Rule," funds were allocated under two categories: impacted and disproportionately impacted households.

- Impacted households. Low- or moderate-income households that show a negative economic impact attributable to the COVID-19 pandemic or households experiencing unemployment, increased food, or house insecurity associated with the pandemic.<sup>4</sup> A household could also be classified as impacted if it was previously qualified for specific federal programs.
- Disproportionately Impacted households. Those households showed pre-existing health, economic, or social disparities before the pandemic, and their condition worsened.

Socorro, Texas: A vulnerable community impacted by COVID-19

As mentioned above, the COVID-19 pandemic caused a severe recession that affected every location, business, and person in the nation. However, negative economic impacts were not evenly distributed among individuals and businesses across different regions and locations in the country. One key factor that drove this impact variability was the economic activity associated with those individuals and businesses. Existing precarious sociodemographic and economic conditions before the pandemic were exacerbated, resulting in greater negative impacts during this economic recession and the later recovery months. Vulnerable conditions included low income, high poverty, and/or high unemployment. Socorro's socio-demographic and economic conditions before the pandemic made these effects more severe and the economic recovery more prolonged.

Income levels

The median household income in Socorro, TX, was $38,111 in 2019, the year before the pandemic. To put this number in perspective, the median household income in El Paso County was $46,871 (23% higher), while Texas overall was $61,874 (62% higher) during that same year. In conformity with the final rule, the City of Socorro had approximately 2,216 households classified as low income and 1,200 households classified as moderate income. By the ARPA definition, 3,416 households (low and moderate-income combined) would be considered impacted households.

Poverty levels

Nearly 24% of the population in Socorro was considered to live below the poverty level in 2019. As for income levels, this indicator for Socorro is also considerably higher than the corresponding numbers of El Paso County (20.2%) and the overall state of Texas (14.7%). The City of Socorro had proportionally more beneficiaries for governmental assistance programs than El Paso County and Texas. While 21.9% of the population in Socorro were affiliated with the Medicaid program, El Paso County and Texas had 17.4% and 16.8%, respectively. For 2019, nearly one-third of all households in Socorro (32%) were beneficiaries of the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), another governmental program supporting impoverished populations. This number is significantly higher than the corresponding figure for El Paso County (20.9%) and the overall state (11.8%).

Employment levels

The City of Socorro, a sub-geography of El Paso County, lost approximately 2,200 jobs in March and April 2020 (see Figure 1), drastically increasing its unemployment rate from 4.3% to 14.2% (see Figure 2). El Paso County experienced a significant loss of over 53,000 jobs (17.5% of its total employment) in two months, resulting in a sudden increase from 3.7% to 13.9% during the same period<sup>5</sup>.

Establishments

During the second and third quarters of 2020, business activity declined in El Paso County, affecting local governments and business owners. The gross sales tax recorded a 7.7% decrease in Q2 and a 12.5% decrease in Q3 compared to 2019 (before the pandemic). These drops and additional expenses from increased government services during these months led to financial challenges for the region's local governments.

For the City of Socorro, 457 establishments were reported operating in the second quarter of 2020. By the third quarter, this number decreased by 47% in 243 establishments in the third quarter. By the fourth quarter, the number of establishments had peaked at 656. Through the rest of 2021 and 2022, the number of establishments has fluctuated between the numbers of 500 and its peak of 676 in the fourth quarter of 2021<sup>6</sup>. See Table 2 for details. During the pandemic recovery period of 2020 and 2021, the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) granted 243 loans worth $6.6 million to local establishments in Socorro<sup>7</sup>.

The importance of this economic recovery plan

An economic recovery plan for Socorro is pivotal for the City's economic resilience to better leverage on opportunities, withstand economic downturns, and proactively take action towards achieving the long-term vision and economic success that the City's leadership and community members have for this community. This plan is designed to inform and equip the City of Socorro's leadership with the tools and strategies to navigate the post-pandemic landscape effectively and lead to a strong recovery that will result in greater community vibrancy and well-being. By leveraging extensive data analysis, thorough stakeholder input, including surveys, interviews, and focus groups with city officials, community members, business leaders, and best practices, the plan ensures that the City's response is comprehensive and tailored to its residents and businesses' unique assets and needs.

At the heart of this recovery plan is the commitment to improve Socorro's economic health and resilience, fostering inclusive growth. These initiatives address the current economic challenges and position Socorro as a competitive and thriving city capable of increasing economic opportunities for all its current and future residents while nurturing a solid business culture that welcomes and supports current and future businesses and visitors.

Target industries

Target industries reflect those industries that are important to a local or regional economy, now and in the future. Identifying target industries matters only to the extent that a community works to actually “target” efforts to support said industry. The strategies and action section details specific strategies to grow Socorro's economy through catalytic entrepreneurial support, business support to existing businesses, marketing, and policies to support growth and workforce initiatives. Nonetheless, a successful target industry initiative must begin with a solid framework that employs quantitative, qualitative, and strategic methods. After a comprehensive analysis of the opportunities, assets, and challenges gathered from public input completed during the community outreach and secondary data and in the context of the five-year period for this strategic plan, the following six industries are the target sectors for the City of Socorro as priority areas.<sup>8</sup> communities, and in light of Socorro's priorities, additional evaluation was conducted to narrow down the specific type of retail as a priority. Three additional criteria were set to evaluate current and future opportunities for retail: current leakage, future leakage, and the potential for new businesses. The top three subindustries to target as market opportunities within this strategic plan are:

1. Grocery stores. The highest leakage currently and in the future, with the potential for four new businesses, averaging 13,553.25 sqft. each. Additionally to its market potential, this alleviates food deserts within the community.
2. Restaurants. The highest business creation potential, with the possibility of adding 19 new establishments averaging 1,584 sqft. each contributing to the city's culinary diversity and dining experience.
3. Clothing stores. Currently experiencing higher leakage than expected in the next five years, there is potential for two new businesses averaging 3,995 sqft. each, reflecting a niche market opportunity for apparel retail.

While educational services and healthcare rose to the top priorities from the community input, these are noted as long-term and emerging opportunities to consider in future plan updates.

Economic development goals

This plan is built upon three primary goals:

Catalyze a stronger, more prosperous, and diversified economy.

Foster inclusive economic opportunities.

Capitalize on cultural and historical assets for sustainable growth.

Timeframe

Strategies are presented for the short, medium, and long term. The short term is year one, the medium term is years two and three, and the long term is years four and five. Other considerations beyond the five years for this plan are included in the 5-years plus considerations for the future.

Community outreach overview

The City of Socorro, valuing the pivotal role of its community in shaping its economic future, initiated an Economic Recovery Strategic Plan to outline its economic prospects for the next three to five years. To ensure a comprehensive approach, an inclusive community outreach effort was launched. A key instrument for this outreach was a survey meticulously crafted to gather insights from community members and business owners. This report documents all responses for both surveys, presented in two distinct sections of the report.

The survey was available in English and Spanish, reflecting our commitment to inclusivity. The collection period was October and November 2023, with the surveys distributed through various channels, including social media, the city's business registration email database, and physical copies at the Chayo Apodaca Community Center.

All answers to the survey were made optional to respect community members' ability and willingness to answer the specifics of the survey. Because of this, responses by question may vary from the total number of surveys collected. The responses collected by question are indicated by question. The number of surveys collected for the community members survey was 83, and 34 for the business owners survey. When answers to specific questions were smaller than the total number of surveys, the number of responses for that specific question is listed.

Community members survey

To guarantee that the answers accurately reflected the community, the received responses were weighted using the sample obtained from the 2021 ACS 5-year estimates of the U.S. Census against the population parameters. All responses are presented in percentages, providing a comprehensive view of the community's perspectives.

Community respondents' profile

a. Median age of respondents: 39.69 years of age.

By gender

By ethnicity

By race

How long have you lived in the City of Socorro, Texas?

Most respondents have lived in Socorro for at least six years, with the vast majority over 10 years.

Years of residence in Socorro

Which of the following best describes your current employment status?

Full-time was defined as at least 35 hours of work per week; part-time, with less than 35 hours per week. Most respondents were employed full-time, followed by the “not currently working” category.

Employment status of respondents

Considering factors like business growth and salary, jobs available, security, and potential economic growth in the City of Socorro, how satisfied are you with the current opportunities available to Socorro residents?

With 82 responses, most respondents were satisfied with the current opportunities in Socorro. However, the following category was “unsatisfied.” This contrast may be due to the current opportunities each respondent is experiencing, including those who answered that they are not currently employed and have part-time and seasonal jobs.

Level of satisfaction with job opportunities

To all respondents, a question was asked whether the community members currently owned a business.

From the 83 responses, 85.2% responded no, while 14.8% responded yes.

For respondents who answered “no” to owning a business, a follow-up question assessed their interest in starting a business in the following 12 months.

Which of the following best represents your level of interest in starting a new business in the City of Socorro in the next 12 months?

From the 71 responses, at least half of the respondents were either very interested or interested in starting a business in the next 12 months.

Interest in starting a business in the next 12 months
To the same respondents who answered that they did not own a business, the next follow-up question was about their familiarity with support for new businesses.

How familiar are you with the support available in Socorro for new businesses?

30 answers were received, with most of the responses needing to be more familiar and familiar. Only five percent were very familiar. This poses a huge opportunity to bring awareness to the current support available to aspiring entrepreneurs and support the idea of the need to expand services targeting specifically aspiring entrepreneurs in the community. In addition to the responses collected, the lack of response may indicate a lack of awareness, which may result in a lack of engagement in this question.

To those who indicated that they currently own a business, a follow-up question was asked to assess their familiarity with the support available to them as business owners.

How familiar are you with the support available in Socorro for existing businesses?

Only 12 answers were received to this question, of which almost 50 percent responded somewhat familiar, followed by almost 46 percent needing to be more familiar or somewhat unfamiliar. Only five percent were very familiar. In addition to the responses collected, the lack of response may indicate a lack of awareness, which may result in a lack of engagement in this question.

Familiarity with support for existing businesses

Then, the survey questions shifted to assessing the respondents' preferences for future economic opportunities. The following questions were asked.

Of the following types of business and jobs, which are the TOP THREE INDUSTRIES that the City of Socorro should focus on to promote economic growth in the next three (3) years?

Entertainment and recreation, food and beverage, and healthcare were the top three industries selected out of the 83 responses collected for this question. Retail, education, and tourism were the next tier of industries selected. Two interesting highlights, logistics and distribution, as one of the fastest growing industries in Socorro and neighboring communities, was second to last in preference. Another highlight of interest is the responses on farming, from which 16 percent were selected as the top three.

Industries to focus on to promote economic growth in next three years

Given the context of opportunities discussed among community members and, in particular, within the Mission Trail Comprehensive Plan, the next question was to evaluate the community's support for cultural and historical tourism.

Please provide your level of agreement with the following statement: "The City of Socorro should PRIORITIZE Socorro's cultural and historical tourism as a tool for economic growth for the creation of jobs and businesses."

From the 83 responses, almost 90 percent either agreed or strongly agreed to this statement.

Should Socorro prioritize cultural and historical tourism as a tool for economic growth?

A follow-up question was asked for those who agreed or strongly agreed that cultural tourism should be prioritized to understand better what that represented for respondents.

Please select your top five ways to do so that would maximize economic benefit and job creation.

From the 74 responses, local festivals were the number one answer with 80% of responses, followed by restoration of historical sites and buildings, bike rental for canal paths, culinary trails connecting local eateries, and events around local stories. For the “Other” option, responses are listed below the graph.

Best ways to maximize on cultural and historical tourism

Responses under “Other”:

- Clean up the historical trail, add safe sidewalks, and widen Socorro Road.
- Promote tourism: opening restaurants, steak houses, and family-oriented attractions.

The last question was open-ended, aiming at allowing community members to share their vision of economic vitality. The answers were classified into four categories: a) businesses and jobs; b) Retail, food, and entertainment; c) Quality of life/infrastructure; and d) Beautification.

From your experience, what is one major initiative or project that would boost Socorro's economic vitality and job market?

- a) Businesses and jobs
- o High pay increases jobs
  - o giving job opportunities to our high school kids.
  - o Just more businesses in the area.
  - o Ventas, clínicas
  - o For important companies to move to town. Incentives for expansions to microenterprises.
  - o I believe that the city should make Socorro Rd a two-lane road in both directions so that people have better access to the businesses in the Socorro area. My parents used to own a business on Socorro Rd, and it failed because many people never saw the store they owned. Potential customers told them they had never seen their store because they avoided traveling along Socorro Rd because of how inconvenient it was for them. Most people commute using the Alameda or the Nort Loop streets. I believe that customers will choose to shop at businesses with easy access and low traffic.

- o Host activities for businesses
- o Generate manufacturing jobs
- o Attract manufacturing companies
- o Get a Bucky's Store to build Socorro.
- o Generate more jobs, tourism, diversion, and education for Socorro and nearby cities.
- o Tourism
- o Local vending stores (markets)
- o Open doors to the maquiladora industry with options for growth
- o Supporting our local business and more community involvement. I could go on with much more, but our city is going places. I used to drive to New Mexico to enjoy certain activities and places, and a lot of it is becoming available in our humble town. Let's go, Soco Loco 🌮! Born and raised here, I'm proud to say that!
- o I noticed a logistics plant being built, which is a great start! Socorro is an awesome place to live in, with a small-town feel. However, the town should focus on a major attraction that would not only serve the citizens but create jobs. There is not one major attraction. There are no water parks, no event parks, etc. One major attraction can spin off Socorro's awesome history while also providing jobs and revenue for the residents of Socorro.
- o Give credits, look for workers across the border (there are no local workers), reduce taxes as possible, reduce requirements as possible

b) Retail, food, and entertainment

- o Retail, restaurants, gas stations. Unfortunately, we have to drive far to get to certain places. Our big Walmart is quite a drive away, and our gas stations are also far from each other. We have minimal close restaurants to choose from. Also
- o Entertainment
- o Restaurant
- o Tourism, large retail stores, Targets, Kohl's, Lowes, Entertainment, sports events.
- o A place that includes food and entertainment for families; everything is far from Socorro.
- o Festivals
- o Festivals to attract people for them to know the city.
- o Need bigger box stores and shopping
- o More stores or shopping centers
- o Entertainment businesses as well as convenience stores that are located several miles from home
- o Build retail stores, gyms and restaurants
- o Various types of restaurants
- o More attractions theaters, fitness activities, shooting fields.
- o Movie theater, nice shopping center with big-name stores and a hotel
- o Clothing stores
- o Bars
- o Open up big retail stores like Target or Albertsons
- o Create a list or a map of historical places and restaurants to visit
- o A big swap meet with sections to sell items and food BUT also service areas not only for adults but also dogs and kids. Have some sort of rodeo because El Paso doesn't have one. Have a race track where speed racers are allowed to speed out but increase the speeding fines!

- More family-friendly events where to find local craftsmen and foods
  - Shopping Centers
  - Mall
  - Create an entertainment district by Socorro's mission.
  - Sport Stadium
  - Promote more local events through the different communication channels
- c) Quality of life/ infrastructure
- I think having a library would help. As a parent with small children who like to read, I have to pay a fee at Clint or El Paso, while their residents don't. Many people use the library to either read or find resources and even have events. Another thing is having a sports recreation program for kids.
  - Small community fairs
  - More parks with bike trails, also where we can have basketball courts, tennis courts and so on.
  - A community library.
  - Our infrastructure is all around the City of Socorro. Fix and pave all our streets. Fix Socorro Rd and make it more attractive for tourists.
  - Less construction
  - Creating a downtown and a cultural plaza in and around Rio Vista
  - Recreational Center with swimming pool, gym, indoor track, monkey bars, etc.
  - Hospital
  - Trail system
  - To bring new residents to move into Socorro while building apartments and waterparks. No more car washes, no more warehouses.
  - Preserve our historical sites and bring tourism.
  - A Science Museum like the one downtown that was called "Insights Museum," or like the interactive museum in Ciudad Juarez called "La Rodadora."
  - Closer access to 375 and I-10. More Lanes so traffic flows better.
  - An excellent project would be to research what students are learning and why they're leaving to grow their future elsewhere. Find out how to build what they are learning to keep them in Socorro and help Socorro grow.
  - A bus route. Preferably for students to go to college. Maybe even an express route to and from the Mission Del Paso Community College and UTEP. A bus route from Socorro High School to the Mission Del Paso Community College would be innovative.
  - Parks are needed to attract more families to live here in Socorro in the new residential areas.. and keep them clean and green!
  - Focus on improving the old neighborhoods
  - Make walking/ bike trails along existing canals
  - Save farmland
- d) Beautification
- Clean-up and code enforcement upgrades are needed.
  - Sidewalks on Socorro Rd. Cleaning up the wetland terrain and adding more things to the wetland trail. Restoration of the historic trail.
  - Clean up. Lots of properties with overgrown weeds. Empty lots that are not kept up. Streets with weeds all over. It's just dirty and old-looking.
  - Make the City of Socorro more appealing by making it more friendly overall. Just driving to Socorro, there are no sidewalks, and it is really dark at night. Whatever 'parks' are dark and not kept up. Just having an overall more appealing Socorro will bring more people.

Survey for business owners

This survey was intended to gather information from current business owners. Therefore, the first question was whether the respondents owned a business in the City of Socorro. If they answered yes, they continued with the survey. If they answered “no,” they were disqualified, and the survey ended.

How many years have you owned your current business in Socorro?

Over 50 percent of the respondents answered they have owned their businesses for five years or less. Given that the first five years of business ownership are critical to set the foundations to a solid and sustainable business long-term, this provides an opportunity to strengthen the early-stage entrepreneur ecosystem. A quarter of respondents had their businesses for 10 years or more, which represents an opportunity to establish partnerships for these business owners to share knowledge, support, and ideally, long-term mentorship for the early-stage entrepreneurs.

Years owning a business in Socorro

Including yourself, how many full-time equivalent (FTE) employees or contractors does your current business employ?

For this question, 91 percent of responses were of companies either having one employee, contractor, or solo entrepreneur or with less than 10 employees or contractors. This question was of particular interest to ensure capturing hires from the companies, other than full-time such as contractors. On the contrary, less than three percent had more than 50 employees or contractors. This poses a great opportunity for capacity building for existing businesses that would allow for expansions and an increase in the number of jobs, if that is the interest of the business owner.

To understand the types of demand for space, the next question asked the type of space for current operations.

Which of the following physical spaces do you currently conduct business operations in?

Most respondents answered that renting space is followed by owning their business space for operations. Potential home-operated business types from the respondents include 17 percent operated from home and hybrid.

The survey then shifted to assessing the business support services, continuing a previous effort as part of the feasibility study of a business incubator. Collecting data further to understand areas of strength and opportunity was important.

1. Based on your experience, what gaps or barriers, if any, exist in accessing business support services in the City of Socorro?

Gaps or barriers in business support services

Of the respondents, a third answered with no gaps or barriers, followed by a lack of awareness of services provided and difficulty in understanding how to access the services. In the latter two, this poses an opportunity to continue bringing awareness to the existing business support already offered and an easy access point to lower barriers to access. To further understand the potential gaps, the next question was specific to what amenities respondents would likely use.

If a new business center were available in the City of Socorro, which of the following amenities would you most likely use?

Business support amenities most likely to be used

The top 10 on the list capture the need for spaces supporting business stability or expansions. The top three categories selected were onsite IT support, conference room or meeting space, and access to office equipment. Similarly, the categories include point of sale, access to high-speed internet, and space for training. Under the category “Other,” the response collected was “Help filling out new business documents.”

Assuming it was available in the City of Socorro, please select the training(s) you would most likely attend in the next 12 months:

This question allowed respondents to select all applicable answers. The top two were business plan development, digital marketing, and social media, followed by sales strategy and financial literacy.

Finally, the survey shifted to assessing the preferences for economic opportunities for the future in a broader approach.

Which of the following industries do you believe are the top three current largest contributors to jobs and businesses in the City of Socorro?

Industries believed to be largest contributors to jobs and businesses

From the perspective of business owners, the food and beverage industry is the top contributor to jobs and businesses in Socorro. This was followed by farming, construction, and logistics and distribution.

From your perspective, what three industries have the most potential for jobs and businesses in the City of Socorro in the future?

Industries believed to have largest potential in the future

When asked about the potential for the future, healthcare was perceived as the industry with the most potential, followed by food and beverage.

From the previous two questions, a comparison between the respondents' beliefs for current versus future impact was made. The graph below shows the difference in the frequency of responses by industry based on the beliefs of the top current and future industries contributing towards jobs and businesses in the City of Socorro. The bars to the right (positive) represent the belief that the specific industry will be of greater importance to their contribution to jobs and businesses than currently. The top three industries that respondents believed will be most important for the future are healthcare, entertainment and recreation, and general tourism. On the contrary, the bars on the left (negative) are for those industries respondents believed would decrease their impact on jobs and businesses in the City of Socorro. The industries with the largest change in the frequency of responses from current to future are food and beverages, farming, and construction.

Beliefs in future growth or declines in impact for jobs and businesses by industry

The following question inquired about the top three industries as the focus for future economic growth. Interestingly, two industries swapped places in the two questions between beliefs for potential and the preferred focus for the future. As the third top industry respondents believed had the largest opportunities for the future, manufacturing dropped to a much lower position when asked about the focus for the next three years. Similarly, retail was listed in the bottom three for the potential for the future while listed as number two as a focus for the future. The rest of the industries may have slightly different positions, with overall consistency.

Of the following types of businesses and jobs, which should be the top three industries that the City of Socorro should focus on to promote economic growth in the next three years?

Industries to focus to promote economic growth in next 3 years

To further understand preferences with respect to strategies, the selected top three industries from each respondents appeared, inquiring now whether to target, create, or expand the specific type of businesses in that industry.

Of the options you selected, should the City of Socorro “Attract,” “Create,” or “Expand” businesses?

From the responses received, the answers were biased towards online retail as the top answer for business creation, followed by energy-related businesses. For business expansion, the top was farming, followed by construction. For business attraction, manufacturing was number one, followed by technology businesses. Categories that had no responses for business attraction were logistics and distribution and construction; no responses for business expansion were only energy; and no answers for business attraction were for online retail only.

Business Attraction, Creation, or Expansion by industry

Similar to the survey for community members, the last section of the survey focused on historical and cultural tourism. The next question evaluated the community's support for this type of tourism.

Please provide your level of agreement with the following statement: The City of Socorro should PRIORITIZE Socorro's cultural and historical tourism as a tool for economic growth for the creation of jobs and businesses.

Similar to the answers in the community survey, business owners agree and strongly disagree with this as an area of focus. However, the strongly disagreed option represented a larger ratio than that of community members.

Should the City of Socorro prioritize cultural and historical tourism for economic growth?

Respondents who agreed or strongly agreed that the City of Socorro needs to prioritize cultural and historical tourism for economic growth were asked a follow-up question. Local festivals and celebrations, restoration of historical sites and buildings, culinary trails connecting local eateries, showcasing local artisans in markets, and events around local stories were the top five ways to maximize the economic benefits and job creation. Compared to the answers from community members, the only difference in the top five was with bike rentals and showcasing local artisans in markets that swapped places in terms of priorities.

You agreed that the City of Socorro should promote its culture and history to tourists. Select your top five ways to do so that would maximize economic benefit and job creation

Ways to maximize economic benefit through tourism

The last question to all respondents for the business survey was the following.

City of Socorro

Economic Recovery Strategic Plan

From your experience, what is one major initiative or project that would boost Socorro's economic vitality and job market?

The answers were classified into five categories: a) businesses and jobs; b) Retail, food, and entertainment; c) Quality of life/infrastructure; d) Beautification; e) Tourism. If the comments were received in Spanish, they have been translated; also, answers may have been edited for clarity and readability.

a) Businesses and jobs

- Good paying jobs
- Informing the region of our rich history and creating the image of Socorro as our county's spacious and quiet part.
- Rio Vista Bracero project.
- Have locals give tours. Capacity building for local people.
- Providing grants to new and existing businesses to open and grow.
- More big businesses and medical centers
- Health care facilities is of particular importance to support the development of future business expansion
- Continue to attract new warehouses and logistics firms. They will create construction and long-term jobs
- Restaurant, hotel, and big business
- Support established businesses for growth and promotion within the community.
- Ease the permits and requirements, making them more affordable and enabling the community to invest and diversify services
- Increase publicity and marketing to promote local businesses in the region to attract more customers. This would allow us to hire more people and maintain the quality of the services.

b) Retail, food, and entertainment

- Community events
- To have cultural and history-based events. The City of Socorro is very rich in history; a tour should exist to explain it.
- Having a small retail center with stores like Ross, craft, and clothing stores.

c) Quality of life/infrastructure

- The cost of living
- Construction
- Blend the historic and contemporary housing for young professionals.
- Housing affordable, streets, retail (shopping).
- Mission Trail/ Socorro Rd is a very busy road that needs more traffic control and expansion
- Infrastructure
- More funding

d) Beautification

- In my opinion, the streets should be clean and for businesses to have a better presentation; the city is very ugly
- Train local youth and citizens how to care for and maintain Adobe buildings.
- Develop vacant lots on the major streets.

e) Tourism

- Socorro's historical areas are attracting a lot of people, but it requires upkeep.
- Making Socorro Rd pedestrian-friendly and having a district where you can walk around, from restaurants to shops and other drinking establishments with open containers.
- Development, restoration, promotion, and funding for tourist-type businesses along the mission trail portion of Socorrofest
- Tourism
- Inviting our surrounding community to visit.
- I believe marketing Socorro as a place to live, and work would help to increase visibility

This community profile is one of the components informing the Economic Recovery Strategic Plan for the City of Socorro, Texas. Specifically, this section analyzes the demographic and socioeconomic profiles, followed by an evaluation of the labor market and economic conditions. Unless otherwise noted as footnotes, this section's data sources are the U.S. Census Bureau, 2017-2021 American Community Survey (ACS) 5-Year Estimates. Population data for 2023 is using ESRI Business Analyst Online. Population data for 2023 is using ESRI Business Analyst Online.

Demographic profile

Population

According to the recent American Community Survey (ACS) 5-Year Estimates, Socorro, TX, was home to 35,429 residents by 2022. By 2023, the estimated population<sup>20</sup> reached 36,946, demonstrating a steady rise and consistent growth since 2010. Over the span from 2010 to 2021, Socorro experienced a notable 12% growth in population. This growth rate reflects the town's expanding community, surpassing the population increase in El Paso County by one percentage point during the same period. See Figure 3 for details.

Population pyramid

Socorro's population distribution aligns closely with that of the larger county. 52% of the population falls between 20 and 59, comparable to El Paso for the same age brackets.

<sup>20</sup> For consistency in calculation methods, population data for 2023 are sourced through Business Analyst Online. ACS population figures for 2023 are unavailable, given that it was a Decennial Census year. Available estimates for 2023 are based on the Decennial Census figures and are calculated differently from ACS estimates, resulting in incomparable figures and significant differences between the estimated figures for 2022 and 2023.

Although the differences are slight, Socorro has a slightly lower percentage of younger populations (0-19 years) and a lower percentage in the older age groups (70+ years). It is particularly interesting to highlight that Socorro's population declines compared to El Paso in age groups 20 to 29, 30 to 39, and 40 to 49, representing three of the critical age brackets within working age. The percentages for the following two brackets, age groups 40 to 49 and 50 to 59, are larger for Socorro. For the age group 40 to 49, Socorro has 14% versus 12% for El Paso County. Similarly, for the age group ages 50 to 59, Socorro has a 13% versus 11 for El Paso County. It is worth highlighting that these two age groups tend to represent families with children, a category under which the largest differences exist when comparing Socorro to the county. Group ages 60+ are comparable between the two with 17% each. See Error! Reference source not found. for details.

Population pyramid for Socorro by gender

Within Socorro, the overall population is comprised of 53% females and 47% males. In the age groups considered to be working between 20 and 59, females make up 54% of the total versus 52% for males. On a closer look, for age groups 40 to 49 and 50 to 59, with 15% and 14%, respectively, versus males with 13% and 12% for the same age groups. While the percentage differences are slight, males have larger percentages compared to females in age groups 30 to 39, 60 to 69, and in ages under 19 years old. See

Population by race and ethnicity

Most of the population is Hispanic, making up 96.5% of the total, a significant demographic feature. The White population follows at 2.2%, with smaller percentages for other races: American Indian or Alaska Native at 0.6%, African American at 0.2%, and other races at 0.5%. This diverse yet predominantly Hispanic community shapes Socorro's cultural and social landscape. See Figure 6 for details.

Median age

The median age in Socorro, TX, saw a significant rise from 2010 to 2021, increasing by 5.8 years, a notable shift compared to smaller increases elsewhere. In contrast, during the same period, El Paso County and the broader Texas population aged only 1.4 and 1.6 years. Additionally, in Socorro, females are relatively older, with a median age of 36.3, compared to 33.7 for males, trend even larger for El Paso County with 3.2 years older females versus males. While the median age difference between females and males for Texas is also females older compared to males, the age difference statewide is only of 1.6 years. This information highlights the distinct aging pattern in Socorro. See Table 3 for details.

Language

In Socorro, TX, 87.63% of residents speak Spanish at home, reflecting the high concentration of Hispanic individuals in the city, with 28,196 Spanish speakers. Conversely, only 12.37% of the population speaks only English. This linguistic profile underscores the cultural richness of Socorro and highlights the importance of bilingual communication for all aspects of life in the community. See Figure 7 for details.

Educational attainment

The educational attainment in Socorro, TX, shows significant disparities compared to both El Paso County and the state of Texas. A notably higher percentage of Socorro's residents still need to complete elementary (19.5%) or high school education (14.1%). While the high school graduation rate in Socorro is higher than state levels (30.4% versus 24.5%), the rates of higher education attainment—both bachelor's degrees at 7.0% and advanced degrees at 2.1%—are markedly lower. See Table 4 for details.

Graduate or professional degree	2.1%	8.1%	11.2%

Table 4 Educational attainment in Socorro, El Paso County and Texas (2021)

The educational disparities in Socorro are further compounded when considering the language spoken at home. Spanish speakers, who comprise close to 88% of the population (see Figure 7), show lower educational attainment, with 34.1% lacking a high school diploma. However, it's notable that 9.5% of Spanish speakers have obtained a bachelor's degree or higher, almost three times the proportion of English-only speakers at 3.2%. This detailed data breakdown highlights significant educational disparities in the community based on the language spoken at home. It suggests a complex interplay between language, culture, and educational achievement, underscoring the need for targeted educational support that addresses these linguistic nuances. See Figure 9 for details.

Figure 9 Educational attainment by language spoken at home

Furthermore, when analyzing by racial demographics, the White and American Indian communities in Socorro exhibit relatively higher levels of educational achievement, with over 93% having at least a high school diploma and more than 12% holding higher education degrees. However, these figures still fall short of county and state averages, emphasizing a community-wide educational shortfall across all demographics. This overview highlights the need for comprehensive educational improvement and outreach programs in Socorro that cater to the diverse needs of its Hispanic, White, and American Indian populations, aiming to bridge the significant educational gaps and enhance the community's developmental prospects. See Figure 10 for details.

Socioeconomic profile

Median household income

In 2021, the median household income in Socorro was $42,042, which is lower than El Paso County at close to $50,919 and Texas at $67,321. Being part of El Paso County, Socorro shows a notable income gap, particularly evident through the percentage of low-income households. Nearly 30% of households in Socorro earn $25,000 or less, compared to 25% in El Paso County and 17.1% in Texas. Furthermore, about 13% of Socorro's households have a six-figure income, less than the 21% in El Paso County and 33% in Texas. These statistics highlight that even though Socorro is part of a more affluent county, the local challenges are persistent in terms of household income distribution. See Table 5 for details, where data is presented in 2021 inflation-adjusted dollars.

Median household income by race and ethnicity

Median household income in Socorro varies significantly among different racial and ethnic groups. The White community in Socorro has the highest income at approximately $49,594, while Hispanics, who are close to the overall median, earn about $41,708. The American Indian community has the lowest income at $30,947. This contrasts sharply with figures from El Paso County, where the American Indian community reports the highest household income at $59,534, surpassing both Whites at $53,941 and Hispanics at $42,024. At the state level, the income distribution shows Hispanic households with the lowest median income at $54,786, whereas White households have the highest at $72,829. These comparisons allow for an appreciation of the challenges and opportunities of Socorro in the regional and state contexts as opportunities for the future based on the disparities. See Figure 11 for details.

Living wages

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) Living Wage is a low-income indicator that calculates figures to determine the minimum wage a full-time worker needs to earn to support their family based on local living costs. This indicator is assessed for 12 family types across all U.S. counties (3,142 in all 50 states). In El Paso County, the Living Wage (LW) for a family with two parents and two children, with only one parent working, is estimated at $21.44 per hour. For a single parent with one child, it rises to $30.63 per hour. These two wages are visually represented in Figure 10, as horizontal lines across all occupations. A total of 21 occupations are captured with their hourly wages. The difference between the two LW's categories and the hourly wage per occupation represents where wages fall short of the living wage needed for family support.

Only two occupations in Socorro, TX, exceed the requirements for the Living Wage calculator considered for the County, as referenced previously. Health diagnosing and treating practitioners top the list with an average wage of $40.89 per hour, and law enforcement workers, including supervisors, follow at $37.45 per hour. This information is critical for understanding wage adequacy relative to the cost of living in specific family contexts. See Figure 12 for details.

Labor market

Labor force participation and unemployment rates

In 2021, Socorro's labor force participation rate (LFPR) stood at 61%, slightly lower than El Paso County's 63% and the Texas average of 65%. However, the age group of 25 to 54 years—considered the most productive years—is captured by the highest level of labor participation in Socorro, rising to around 80% per age cohort, which is roughly on par with the 79% to 82% range seen in El Paso County and across Texas. See Table 6 for details.

Socorro's unemployment rate (UR) was relatively low at 5.9%, which is favorable compared to the slightly higher 6.8% in El Paso County. However, it is marginally above the Texas rate of 5.4%. Notably, the age group of 30 to 44 years in Socorro shows an exceptionally low UR of 3.0%, representing a substantial portion (nearly one-quarter) of the local labor force. This rate contrasts with higher UR for the same age group in El Paso County, which ranges from 5.3% to 7.2%, and in Texas, which ranges from 4.2% to 4.8%.

Table 6 Labor force participation and unemployment rate in Socorro, El Paso County, and Texas (2021)

Additionally, the UR for individuals aged 60 to 64 in Socorro is remarkably low at 2.2%. This suggests that older individuals, likely benefiting from extensive work experience, are more likely to secure employment if they remain in the workforce. These figures highlight the strength of Socorro's labor market, particularly for its most experienced workers, and underscore the potential for targeted employment policies that capitalize on the productivity of its core working-age and senior populations.

Inflow and outflow of employees

Based on the 2021 U.S. Census Bureau estimates, the workforce dynamics within Socorro, TX, reveal a significant commuting pattern for employment. Only a small portion of the workforce, about 437 people, both live and work within Socorro. In contrast, a large number of workers commute to and from the city; 9,545 residents commute out of Socorro for work, while 3,499 workers travel from other areas into Socorro for employment. This indicates a substantial reliance on surrounding communities for labor exchange and underlines the importance of developing transportation and infrastructure solutions to support the extensive daily movement of workers. See Figure 13 for details.

Industries by employment levels

In Socorro, TX, the dominant industries contributing to employment highlight a significant sectoral distribution. Educational Services and Retail Trade are the leading employers, each comprising 17.1% of the workforce with 933 and 929 employees, respectively. This indicates a strong presence of schools, universities, retail stores, and shopping centers, pivotal to the local economy. Transportation and warehousing, and construction are also significant contributors, employing 15.1% and 13.3% of the workforce, respectively. Accommodation and Food Services account for 10.2% of employment as part of the service industry, highlighting the importance of tourism and dining industries in the local job market.

The top five industries combined - educational services, retail trade, transportation and warehousing, construction, and accommodation and food services - employ nearly three-quarters of all workers in Socorro. Smaller sectors like Other Services, Health Care, and Social Assistance employ 5.4% and 4.9%, respectively. These sectors are essential for basic community needs and well-being despite being smaller. The category labeled "All other," comprising 16.8% of the workforce, suggests a diverse range of other industries contributing to the local economy. See Figure 14 for details.

Wages by industry

Socorro's average annual wage across all industries is approximately $47,095. The overview of wages reveals significant variances that underscore the economic stratification based on industry sectors. See Table 7 for details<sup>23</sup>, highlighting the wages for highest employment industries from Figure 14.

High-wage sectors: The industries offering the highest wages in Socorro are the Professional, Scientific, and Technical Services, where the average annual wage is $68,252. This is closely followed by Finance and Insurance at $66,411 and Utilities at $66,233. These sectors typically demand a high level of education and specialization. None of the industries with the highest employment for Socorro are in this category of high-wage sector.

Middle-wage sectors: Other significant economic contributors include Wholesale Trade and Public Administration, with average wages of $63,838 and $62,676.

Manufacturing, Real Estate, and Construction also provide robust wage offerings, ranging from approximately $54,132 to $55,533. Five out of the seven highest employment industries for Socorro are within this category.

Lower-wage sectors: At the lower end of the wage spectrum, Retail Trade and Other Services (except Public Administration) present more modest wages, between $35,766 and $36,068. Notably, the Arts, Entertainment, and Recreation sector, along with Accommodation and Food Services, are the least remunerated, with wages at $25,169 and $20,746, respectively. Two of the seven highest employment industries for Socorro are in this category of low-wage sectors.

Employment by occupations

In Socorro, the distribution of employment across various occupational groups provides significant insight into the dynamics and potential growth areas within the local labor market. Utilizing the Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) system, we can observe that the workforce is concentrated predominantly in a few key sectors. Socorro's top five occupational categories account for over half of all workers, totaling 50.2%. Leading the employment figures are Construction and extraction with 1,918 workers (12.5% of total employment), followed closely by Sales and related occupations with 1,869 workers (12.2%), Office and administrative support roles engaging 1,731 workers (11.3%), Transportation with 1,272 workers (8.3%), and Production roles which employ 934 workers (6.1%).

This concentration highlights Socorro's economic strengths, particularly in sectors like construction and sales, which drive the local economy and offer substantial employment opportunities to the community. However, while these sectors flourish, others show markedly less engagement. Specifically, occupational groups such as Farming, fishing, and forestry are barely represented, accounting for only 0.1% of the workforce. Architecture, engineering, and Life, physical, and social science have very minimal representation at 0.2% and 0.3%, respectively. This disparity in sectorial employment points to a limited diversification within the local economy. See Figure 15 for details.

Employment by occupations in Socorro, TX (2021)

Employment by gender

When juxtaposed with gender distribution in the workforce, it reveals distinct patterns and disparities highlighting the roles men and women occupy in the local economy. Women are disproportionately represented in certain occupations despite making up about 47% of the workforce. For instance, there are notable gender disparities within sectors such as Construction and extraction, which employs no women, and Office and administrative support, where women significantly outnumber men with 1,224 female workers compared to 507 male workers.

Furthermore, occupations employing the majority (61%) of women in Socorro include Office and administrative support (16.9% of total employment), Sales-related (16.8%), Healthcare support (9.5%), Educational instruction and library (9.3%), and Food preparation and serving related (8.2%). These sectors alone comprise 59% of all job opportunities in the city, indicating a concentration of female employment in these areas. Meanwhile, high-paying sectors like Construction and extraction are overwhelmingly male-dominated. See Figure 16 for details. Percentages in parenthesis for each occupation represent that occupation's total employment percentage.

Economic conditions

Gross domestic product

Economic growth within regions is typically gauged using Gross Domestic Product (GDP), an essential economic indicator that reflects a geographical area's overall economic health and productivity. Specific GDP data is unavailable for smaller regions like Socorro, TX, compelling reliance on broader economic trends from nearby larger areas such as El Paso County to infer local economic conditions. Figures are presented in millions of chained 2012 dollars.

El Paso County's GDP has consistently grown since 2010, with a few notable exceptions. There were declines around 2013 and 2014, during which the GDP saw a significant reduction of about 10% over two years. This downturn was followed by a gradual recovery over several subsequent years, illustrating the region's resilience and capacity to rebound from economic setbacks. A similar GDP decline occurred in 2020, attributed primarily to the global economic impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, mirroring the 10% drop seen in the earlier part of the decade. However, the recovery post-2020 was markedly faster than the recovery period in the 2010s. This figure assumes that Socorro's economic trends perform, if not perfectly, in close similarity to El Paso County's. See Figure 17 for details<sup>24</sup>.

Gross sales tax

Gross Sales Tax revenue in Socorro provides an insightful perspective on the city's economic activity over several quarters. Throughout 2021 and into 2022, there is a clear trend of fluctuating yet generally increasing sales tax revenue. However, figures for 2023 by quarter show lower revenues for each quarter compared to 2022. Starting in the first quarters of 2021, 2022, and 2023, there was an increase in the first quarter of 2022 ($257,030) compared to the first quarter of 2021 ($208,234) and then a drop from the first quarter of 2022 to the first quarter of 2023 ($228,559). For the second quarters, it was a similar pattern was captured by the data as in the first quarters, with an increase year to year from the second quarter of 2021 (231,724) to the second quarter of 2022 ($264,008) and a drop year to year from 2022 to 2023 (234,512). Year-to-year for the third quarter of 2021 was the highest of the three, with revenue of $251,761 compared to $250,085 for 2022 and $243,085 for the third quarter of 2023. For the year-to-year fourth quarters, it is highlighted that the fourth quarter for 2022 was the highest record between the year-to-year compared to 2021 ($274,476) and 2023 (257,550) and the highest revenue from any quarter between 2021 and 2023.

For yearly revenues, 2022 was the strongest in revenue with a total of $1,094,313, followed by 2021 with a total of $966,464, and lastly year 2023 with a total of $963,706. See Figure 18 for details<sup>25</sup>. This highlights the changes in consumer behavior and business performance.

A deeper dive into the composition of this revenue for the City of Socorro reveals that the retail trade and wholesale trade sectors are the primary drivers, contributing a combined majority of over 84% to the sales tax revenue. Retail Trade alone accounted for about 64.26% of the total sales tax, emphasizing its dominant role in the local economy. Wholesale Trade also significantly contributed, accounting for 20.29% of the sales tax revenue. See Figure 19 for details<sup>26</sup>.

For the 2023, the retail sector increased compared to the yearly share of gross sales taxes from 2022 (from 64.26% to 68.77%), and slightly Accommodations and food services increased from 3.72 to 3.10. All other sectors experienced a decline in sales for this one quarter. Wholesale from 20.29% in 2022 to 14.64%, Other services from 5.14% to 4.90%, Construction from 3.01% to 1.01%, and manufacturing from 1.13% to 0.78%. See Figure 20 for details.

Location quotient

Finally, a Location Quotient (LQ) analysis is used in parallel with evaluating the number of jobs per industry within Socorro. LQs are a crucial tool used for regional evaluation to assess the specialization of economic activities within a particular area regarding employment. By comparing local industry employment levels in Socorro to the state of Texas, LQs provide insight into the economic uniqueness of this region as it indicates that an area has proportionately more workers in a specific industry sector relative to the state. This implies that an area produces more of a product or service than area residents consume. The excess is available for export outside the area. An LQ greater than 1 may represent an industry as an exporter or excessive local demand. A high LQ in a specific industry may translate into a competitive advantage for the local economy; an LQ lower than 1 indicates a lower concentration of people employed in that industry compared to the state of Texas<sup>27</sup>. The total number of jobs within Socorro per industry allows a further understanding of the size of employment in the community, regardless of the changes with respect to the state. For all details, see Table 8 and Table 9.

The strategic application of LQs in economic analysis helps to identify four categories of industry concentration and trends:

Industry clusters: Industries in this category are more concentrated than the average and are increasing in specialization. In Socorro, TX, Retail Trade is the only industry to emerge as a cluster with an LQ of 1.21. Over the past six years, employment in retail Trade has grown by 14.5%, going from an LQ of 1.06 to 1.21, indicating an increasing specialization that exceeds the state average. This growth designates Retail trade as a major player in the local economy and a potential area for further economic development and job creation. The total number of jobs in retail for 2021 was 2072.

High concentrations but declining industries: These industries include those with higher concentrations of employment compared to the state and, therefore, considered specialized but with a diminishing presence. For Socorro, these industries include utilities, transportation and warehousing construction, administrative support and waste management services, and other services. It is worth mentioning that these industries represented at least the same concentration level as retail trade in 2015, yet their decline has been significant over the last five years. Not replacing or reinforcing these industries may have a long-term negative economic effect on the local economy, especially if other industries do not increase their employment levels to have a net balance in employment.

When looking at these industries by number of jobs, construction is the largest, with 1,903 jobs for 2021, followed by 1,357 for transportation and warehousing. Even though utilities grew in LQ compared to the state, the number of jobs has remained constant within Socorro.

Pre-emergent industries: Industries here have a smaller employment level than the state level but are becoming more so over time. These industries are progressing to become more significant to the region's economic base, and they can potentially move into the "pre-emergent" sectors. Under this category, Socorro has Public Administration with a growth of 34.2% in the period considered, and its continued growth is dependent on public investment. As for accommodation and food services, the wholesale trade industry is slightly above the LQ of 1. However, their growth has been significant, especially for wholesale trade, with a 75.6% growth. These two industries represent promising industry clusters characterized by high concentration and expansion. Lastly, within the pre-emergent category, there are four additional industries as an opportunity for medium to long-term potential industry clusters: educational services; health care and social assistance; arts, entertainment, and recreation; and agriculture, forestry, fishing, and hunting.

In terms of jobs, the top largest industries within this category are healthcare and social assistance, with a total number of jobs of 1,810, followed by educational services, 1,460, and accommodation and food services, 1,199. While agriculture, forestry, fishing, and hunting have increased the number of jobs, the figure is small, accounting for 59 jobs in 2021.

Lower concentrations and declining industries: Industries in this category have a lower level of employment regionally and compared to the state while also experiencing a decline in employment. For Socorro, these include manufacturing, mining, quarrying, and oil and gas extraction; real estate and rental and leasing; information; finance and insurance; and professional, scientific, and technical services.

When assessing these industries by number of jobs, manufacturing is a major employer with 1,015, even with a decline from 1,096 employed in 2015. The rest of the industries are relatively smaller.

Poverty profile

The poverty profile analyzes the population that lives under the poverty line by specific characteristics, including gender, age, ethnicity, educational attainment, and employment. In 2021, 12% of the U.S. population lived in poverty, with Texas having a slightly higher rate at 14%. When evaluating this data point for El Paso County, it fared worse than Texas, with 19.3%. For Socorro, TX, it was even more critical, with 23.3% of its population living in poverty.

The share of the population living below the poverty line in Socorro varies considerably across different demographic profiles: age, gender, and ethnicity.

By age groups: The most affected demographic by poverty in Socorro are those under 18, with a poverty rate of 27.9%, signaling significant financial hardship among children and teenagers. Similarly, seniors 65 and older also face a high poverty rate of 26.7%, underscoring the need for robust support systems for both the youngest and oldest in the community. Young adults and working-age adults also grapple with poverty at rates of 22.9% and 19.5%, respectively.

By gender: Both males and females experience higher poverty rates than their counterparts in El Paso County, with males seeing a 3-percentage point difference and females having a 5-percentage point difference. Within Socorro itself, the differences between genders showed a disparity between males and females, with females experiencing a higher poverty rate of 26.1% compared to males at 20.1%. This gender gap points to deeper layers of vulnerability among women in Socorro.

Ethnic disparities: Racial and ethnic disparities also play a critical role, with Hispanics—who make up the majority of the population—experiencing a higher poverty rate of 23.6%, compared to 17.7% for Whites. This suggests persistent economic challenges within the predominant demographic group, emphasizing the need for culturally sensitive economic policies that address these inequalities. See Figure 21 for details.

Furthermore, the data suggests a clear connection between educational attainment and poverty rates, underscoring education as a pivotal factor in economic stability. Individuals with a bachelor's degree or higher experienced a significantly lower poverty rate of 6.8 percent, compared to a staggering 31.1% among those without a high school diploma. This trend highlights the critical role of education in reducing poverty and suggests a strategic focus on enhancing educational access and quality to lift individuals out of economic hardship.

Lastly, the type of employment and its link to poverty are evaluated, as employment typically reduces poverty levels within communities. Among the 922 unemployed individuals residing in the City of Socorro, 49.8% live in poverty. Among the 15,485 employed individuals, 15.5% are also grappling with poverty. Unfortunately, when breaking poverty figures for employment type, 8.1% of people with a full-time job live in poverty, while those working part-time are 32.9%. While the trends for all categories evaluated here are similar between Socorro and El Paso County, the poverty level for each of the three categories presented under educational attainment, employment status, and type of employment breakdown suffer higher poverty rates in Socorro than those in El Paso County. See Figure 22 for details.

Target industries and their occupations

Target industries

Given the data presented in the community profile and in consideration of public input support, the recommended target industries are:

- ▶ Transportation and warehousing
- ▶ Construction
- ▶ Manufacturing
- ▶ Educational services
- ▶ Healthcare and social assistance
- ▶ Retail trade
- ▶ Accommodations and food services
- ▶ Tourism<sup>28</sup>

These eight industries resulted from a comprehensive analysis of quantitative and qualitative data. Table 10 captures the quantitative data highlighting location quotients (LQ) to identify specialized areas, correlating with the number of jobs created by each industry and the average annual wage.

Industries	2015		2021		Average annual wage

Table 10 Target industries characteristics

While transportation and warehousing, and construction are noted as having high concentrations but declining, these two industries are a crucial source of jobs in the community.

Similarly, the number of jobs and its close concentration to an LQ of 1 in 2015 were the key factors in selecting manufacturing, even when it was noted as a declining industry. For construction and manufacturing, it is critical to highlight that outside retail and wholesale (representing over 84% of total gross sales taxes for Socorro, these two industries are the largest contributors to gross sales taxes, with 3.01% and 1.13%, respectively. See Figure 19 for the total gross sales taxes for Socorro.

While utilities, administrative and support, and waste management services appeared to be high-concentration but declining industries, the number of jobs was limited. Lastly, public administration was not included in the list even as a pre-emergent industry, given that it depends on public investment. See Table 8 for details.

Also, as marked in asterisk (*) in Table 10, five of the eight industries meet the preferential criteria included in WSB 2024 Hot Jobs – Transportation and warehousing, construction, educational services, healthcare and social assistance, and manufacturing. Lower wages for retail, accommodation and food services, and tourism-related occupations are one of the primary reasons for these industries not to meet these criteria as presented in Table 7 capturing the average annual wages by industry in Socorro. The following section, “target occupation,” covers further detail on this.

Target occupations

With the target industries, the next step was to consider the occupations within these target industries.<sup>29</sup> Some examples captured in

Table 11 Target industries and examples of occupations by industry

*Tourism is not a NAICS code industry. Occupations under tourism are based on career pathways along lodging, recreation, restaurants and food/beverage services, and travel and tourism.

Acknowledging two factors -that even within higher average-paying industries, wages specific to occupation may vary broadly and that even when occupations are high paying, availability of jobs will determine the real opportunity- further evaluation to narrow down was done to highlight feasible opportunities for implementation. Utilizing the priority occupations for the Workforce Solutions Borderplex (WSB), the occupations highlighted in Table 12 are those that match target industries for Socorro and are included in “WSB 2024 Hot Jobs”<sup>30</sup>. The occupations listed in the “WSB 2024 Hot Jobs” meet three crucial criteria to place job seekers for success:

- ▶ 10% or more growth over ten years
- ▶ $17.24 or more per hour entry wage
- ▶ 20 or more annual job openings

WSB is one of Texas's 28 public workforce development boards, serving the six-county Borderplex region - El Paso, Hudspeth, Culberson, Jeff Davis, Presidio, and Brewster counties. “WSB functions as a nonprofit opportunity incubator, personalizing the career path and connecting the right people to the right positions”<sup>31</sup>.

Table 12 also has a particular category titled the “hottest” jobs that represent jobs both - in top wage quartiles and entry wages at or above $17.24. The “hottest” jobs are highlighted in yellow and marked with a “fire” icon - 🔥 - as part of their description.

In addition to the opportunities within El Paso County presented in the WSB and given the opportunities within the regional context for Socorro, occupations in the rural counties also served by WSB - Hudspeth, Culberson, Jeff Davis, Presidio, and Brewster – were also included. Only in some instances did the occupations coincide to be a “hot job” in both El Paso County and the rural counties. It is important to highlight that the same occupation may have different hourly entry and experience wages based on the location. See section “Rural neighboring counties” in Table 12 for details.

Appendix 6 Highlights of the Mission Trail Comprehensive Plan for El Paso County

In 2019, a comprehensive plan (MTCP) was completed for the entire Mission Trail within the El Paso County, covering the three missions: Ysleta Mission, Socorro Mission, and Presidio Chapel of San Elizario. This section provides a summary specific to its content relevant to Socorro. The MTCP was utilized as an additional source of information to advise Socorro on the strategic plan for economic recovery in the areas of tourism and retail.

The 2019 comprehensive plan was created around five big ideas with more specific objectives each:

1. Create complete centers around each mission and chapel.
  - a. Live, work, and play in the Mission Valley.
  - b. Encourage each community's unique identity.
  - c. Support existing destinations.
2. Protect and enhance historic assets and agricultural landscapes.
  - a. Document historical assets, landscapes & artifacts.
  - b. Protect historical assets.
  - c. Preserve agricultural assets.
3. Add destinations and events.
  - a. Destinations and events in each community
  - b. Common links to destinations
4. Add trails and improve streets to connect the Mission Valley.
  - a. Add trails along the historic irrigation canals and Socorro Road.
  - b. Improve the mobility of the commuting network.
5. Expand the economic base and identify funding sources.
  - a. Create a Mission Valley alliance.
  - b. Coordinate existing funding sources.
  - c. Seek additional funding sources.
  - d. Establish public improvement districts.

Socorro, Texas, has embraced a unique rural character and rich agricultural heritage, highlighted by the Rio Vista Farm and the Bracero community. This identity was the basis for the recommendations provided for Socorro in the Plan, emphasizing the promotion of organic farming, local food shops, and agriculture-related tourism as key components of its economic development. Below is a summary of the areas recommended.

► Enhancing existing destinations

Improving public streets, encouraging private infill development, and incorporating public art can attract visitors and strengthen connections to existing destinations. A significant proposal involves developing a visitor-friendly placita near Apodaca and Socorro Roads. This new hub, surrounded by homes and businesses, aimed to create a walkable area that links the historic Socorro Mission with the town's commercial and residential zones.

► Adding new destinations and events

Creating new attractions such as farm stands, botanical gardens, local coffee shops, and restaurants to enhance Socorro's rural charm and provide new amenities for residents and visitors. Leveraging the large vacant area near Apodaca and Socorro Roads offers significant potential for infill developments.

► Enhancing Socorro Road

Public art installations, strategic signage, and themed plantings along Socorro Road are recommended to create a unified and attractive corridor that enhances the visitor experience. Given Socorro Road's role as the main access route between communities, enhancing it with markers, signage, and public art can unify Ysleta, Socorro, and San Elizario, providing visitors with a coherent and inviting experience. A trail network for hiking, biking, and horse riding, utilizing historic irrigation canals and ditch banks, is proposed to expand connections across the Valley, increase mobility options, and promote recreational activities.

► Improving access and visibility

Plans include installing billboards along I-10 to highlight the Mission Trail and adding prominent signage at the 375 off-ramps at Alameda and Carl Longuemare Roads to direct people to Socorro Road and the Mission Trail area. Enhanced corridor signage on Socorro Road, similar to those in Kern Place and Manhattan Heights, is also recommended to increase visibility and effectively guide visitors.

► Preserving agricultural assets

Efforts are being made to reestablish farms, orchards, and community gardens amidst commercial and residential developments. Promoting crop rotations and supporting smaller, productive farms that use natural resources wisely can help preserve farmland and grow the local economy. This approach sustains the area's agricultural heritage while encouraging the production of specialty crops that require less water and space, yielding high-value products.

► Supporting small organic farms and specialty crops

This specialized industry, including crops such as verdolagas, squash, quinoa, and various dye crops, aligns with the Mission Valley's historical agricultural practices. Financial assistance, tax incentives, and providing plant material and training can incentivize the growth of specialty crops on small parcels. These initiatives can help feed the local population with healthy foods and create opportunities for exporting commodities to other markets.

- Promoting tourism and retail development

A single branded marketing vision for all entities along the Mission Trail can increase exposure to local visitors and tourists. This strategy should highlight the area's unique attractions and cultural heritage, encouraging more people to visit and explore the Mission Valley.

- Advocating for commercial and retail business development

Encouraging the establishment of businesses that complement the community's agricultural and cultural heritage to create a diverse and resilient economic base. Promoting local coffee shops, restaurants, bed and breakfasts, and retail shops to enhance the visitor experience and provide new opportunities for residents.

- Creating a Mission Valley Alliance

This proposed alliance would coordinate existing funding sources and seek additional funding for various projects. By bringing together property owners, business representatives, tenants, and community leaders, the alliance can manage a special assessment fund aimed at making improvements within the Mission Trail area.

- Expanding the trail network and improving pedestrian amenities

Periodically closing off sections of Socorro Road or other side streets to vehicular traffic to encourage walking, biking, and other non-motorized activities. Street trees, protected lanes, and even surfaces to create a more inviting environment for residents and visitors to explore the Mission Trail. Completing the Paso del Norte Trail system to enhance the regional connectivity further, allowing people to walk or bike along a designated pathway from San Elizario to downtown El Paso, UTEP, and the border with New Mexico.

- Promoting physical activity and community health

Increasing physical activity through regular events and races along Socorro Road to promote community health and provide economic opportunities. Supporting local vendors and small businesses in creating community gardens and farmers' markets can enhance local food production and economic activity.
